Pattullo Urges Big Building Programme

B.C. Premier Says Canada Should Lay Out $150,000,000

Pattullo Asks Dominion Government to Give Him Reply to His Country-wide Suggestion Before He Signs New Agreement for Federal Payments Monthly on Relief: Highways, Wharves, Bridges and Public Buildings Proposed

Ottawa, Aug. 1.—A plan for a nation-wide building programme, involving $150,000,000 a year, was laid before the Dominion-Provincial Relief Conference here by Premier Pattullo of British Columbia. Pending a definite reply by the Dominion, he has not signed the agreement under which the federal treasury proposes to pay the Pacific province $100,000 a month to cover direct relief costs.

"What I seek is a solution of unemployment, a plan to give people the far western Premier said to-day.

Under his plan the Dominion could advance currency and loan it to provinces without interest, to be repaid on public works. It would involve the same sum as the Dominion employed to pay for its $60,000,000 building programme now under way.

Highways and bridges included in the Pattullo plan would be wharves, bridges, highways, public buildings, sewage and drainage schemes. The Dominion would be asked to make the same contribution on the life of the building or work and raised through taxation.

At the present time, the Premier said, the peak of unemployment in the Pacific has been reached in British Columbia, yet there were thousands of men and women jobless. It was apparent that the Dominion was not doing its share in the relief of unemployment, and he had not signed the direct relief agreement, he said.

Incidence of B.C.'s $9,000,000 Education Bill Becomes Burning Point come Tax Would Have to Be More Than Doubled To Take Cities' Share

The task of dealing with British Columbia's $9,000,000 education bill was turned over by Hon. J. M. Web's education finance committee to-day to a sub-committee which will report the representatives made during the last two days.

The salient facts brought out during the sitting was that landowners in the province are paying directly more than two-thirds of the school tax of the province and claim they are not getting their share. It was pointed out that the province is not getting its share of the revenue from the land tax, but that it is the province's duty to pay for the education of its children. The revenue from the land tax is not being used for the purpose of education, but is being used for other purposes. Balloon Race Over Southeastern U.S.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 1.—The Goodyear VIII, one of five entries in the United States balloon race, landed at Bolton, an Atlanta suburb shortly after three p.m. today. The Goodyear entry was piloted by Lieut. Karl L. Lang and Verner L. Smith, his aide. The landing was made safely. The other two balloons drifted in a north-west direction.

RELIEF PLAN STUDIED HERE

B.C. Proceeds With Re-registration as Ottawa Moves To Cut Contribution

British Columbia's new relief plan, involving a check on all transients, tightening of all aid generally and requiring work at the rate of $2.50 a day in return for allowances, went into effect to-day while the authorities here were considering just how Ottawa's latest decision will affect the situation.

It appeared from the latest figures on relief costs, that the $150,000 a month lump sum grant by the Dominion might cover the balance of relief expenditures during the summer months. With the lists bound to rise again in the fall however, this new arrangement is a reduction of a considerable amount.

Just how this will affect the provincial policy will not be determined until the Dominion's new arrangement is put into effect. In the meantime the unemployment re-registration will proceed and allowances granted.

LOGGER KILLED AT ALERT BAY

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Aug. 1.—Word has been received at provincial police headquarters here that Joseph P. Pender, logger, East Pender Street, succumbed when he was struck by a falling tree near Alert Bay.

Accidental death was the verdict of a coroner's jury following the inquest held at Alert Bay. It is reported by Constable Norman Dwyer.

Police are awaiting burial instructions from a brother of the deceased in New Mexico.

KIDNAPPING PLOT BARED

Men Held in Toronto Are Charged With Attempt Against J. S. McLean

Toronto, Aug. 1.—Silent regarding their operations, police to-day continued investigating an alleged conspiracy to kidnap one of Canada's leading business men and hold him for a reported $100,000 ransom. Believed the first case of its type in the Dominion, the alleged plot was aimed at James S. McLean, president of the Canadian Packers' Association.

TWO REIFELS ARE ACCUSED

Seattle Jury Charges Vancouver Man and Son With Smuggling Conspiracy

Associated Press
Seattle, Wash., Aug. 1.—Henry Reifel, wealthy Canadian distiller and brewer, and his son George, were accused of conspiracy to violate the tariff act of 1923 and 1926 by smuggling huge shipments of liquor into the United States in grand jury indictments opened to-day by Special Assistant Attorney-General Sam E. Whittaker.

The Reifels were indicted on two counts, each covering one tariff act and each charging thirteen other acts by which the father and son, with alleged co-conspirators not named by Whittaker, are said to have landed liquor near Seattle, transported it, concealed it, and after selling it sent money to Vancouver, B.C.

A civil suit for $17,250,000 is pending against the Reifels for money allegedly due the government. The indictment charges the pair with landing liquor near Seattle without reporting to the collector of customs and without a permit to import dutiable merchandise. The alleged smuggling was done at Seattle, B.C., a secured shipping area, a few miles south of here, and at the Salween River outlet in Oregon.

The Reifels were accused of bringing in to the United States from Canada and other foreign countries 2,500 cases of Scotch whisky, 100,000 cases of malt and twelve five-gallon jugs of rum and seventy-four bottles of miscellaneous intoxicants.

A number of provincial Premiers are alleged to have been made with the First National Bank of Seattle after sale of the liquor for credit of Reifel interests in Vancouver.

Provinces Need Cheaper Loans

Ontario Premier Urges Action in Line With Federal Two Per Cent Loan

Canadian Press
Toronto, Aug. 1.—Reduction in interest rates in line with the Dominion government loan sold in the United States yesterday at 2 per cent would provide simple money for relief, Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn said to-day on his return from the Dominion-Provincial conference on relief matters at Ottawa.

The federal loan raised in New York, described as setting a record for low interest in the history of Dominion financing, totals $50,000,000, which will be used in refunding a Treasury note issue. The loan was negotiated with a group of banks, a number of provincial Premiers at the conference in Ottawa, said Mr. Hepburn, had pressed for initiation of some measure of monetary reform.

Canada's troubles could be described in the word "interest."

The provinces, said Mr. Hepburn, were handicapped in seeking new money at low interest rates because they could not deal with foreigners. Investors abroad were not familiar with financial conditions of the provinces and would lend only to the Dominion, said the Premier.

WOULD BENEFIT FINANCES
For this reason the Dominion might be able to do some financing for the provinces on an advantageous basis. By borrowing money at 5 per cent, interest charges could be reduced by more than half, said Mr. Hepburn, with tremendous beneficial effect on government and municipal finances generally.

MARITIMES ASK FOR BETTER TERMS

Ottawa, Aug. 1.—An immediate freeze on the salaries of the Maritime Provinces that submit payments by the Dominion Government should be re-examined and adjusted to the cost of living conditions, and particularly commensurate with assistance given the western provinces, was the main request to-day by the Maritime Provinces to the Dominion Government.

New Vienna Government Has So Far Restored Order After Nazi Uprising That Withdrawal Justified, Says Rome

Canadian Press from Rome
Rome, Aug. 1.—Italian troops stationed on the Austrian border will shortly be withdrawn, it was understood here to-day.

The improved Austrian situation justified the Italian relaxation of precautionary measures taken at the time of the abortive Nazi coup in Vienna, well informed circles said.

No further difficulties were expected, the Carinthian and Styrian outbreaks followed the July 25 action in Vienna apparently having been completely suppressed.

Army manoeuvres in North Italy, previously announced, will take place as scheduled, it was indicated.

Brother's Efforts to Save Vancouver Man's Life Fail on Mountain Side

The tragic death of Edison Scott Gordon, of Vancouver, on July 31, while he was prospecting with his brother Boyd at the head of Quatam River, is related in a provincial police report from Constable M. N. MacAlpine of the Campbell River detachment of the provincial police.

Mr. Gordon fell 350 feet down the side of a mountain, suffering seven hours from a fractured skull without expert medical aid before he died. His brother was with him at the time but was unable to stem the flow of blood from the wounds, despite an attempt to stitch a gaping wound in the head.

Accompanying the police report is an account of the accident as submitted by Boyd Gordon. The brothers were descending a mountain to their base camp and Boyd was proceeding to his brother. When they arrived at the spot where the accident occurred, Boyd had been on a lower level and Edison threw him as he came his head while he descended. Whether or not the throw overbalanced Edison, Boyd did not know, but the next thing he saw was his brother somersaulting down the mountain side.

Brightens Outlook For Coal Industry

Removal of U.S. Duty Expected to Increase B.C. Production

Removal of countervailing duties on coal entering the United States will be generally welcomed by the coal mining industry of British Columbia. It will brighten the outlook for the coal mines, although it is unlikely the United States market will be restored to its former level, officials of the Department of Mines said to-day.

Significant figures contained in departmental records show that in 1917 and 1918 prior to the imposition of the United States duty, British Columbia sent close to one-third of its entire output across the line. In 1917, for instance, the United States took 754,869 tons, of which 528,721 was from the coast coal mines alone.

The entire production for that year, including the coal made into coke, the amount lost in screening and the amount lost in company dumps as well as the Canadian consumption, was 2,578,715 tons.

While the duty cut off this market to a large extent, there was another more serious situation for the industry developing through the increased use of fuel oil in California, where much of the coal was sent, and in other places. This has been the chief reason for years why the British Columbia coal mines were not working to capacity.

Aged Chief of State Falls Into Coma, But Physician Says He May Live for Some Time; Hitler Reported From One Source To Be Planning to Make Himself President

Action Army Would Take Is Unknown

Canadian Press and Associated Press

Berlin, Aug. 1.—Dr. Sauerbruch, personal physician to President von Hindenburg, talked by long distance telephone with Berlin authorities at 9.50 to-night and expressed his unbounded surprise at the President's powers of resistance. He said it now was his opinion the President might live for some time.

An earlier dispatch said: Berlin, Aug. 1.—An announcement at 8.28 o'clock this evening said President Paul von Hindenburg's death agency had not in and death was expected in less than an hour.

GROWS WEAKER
Neudeck, Germany, Aug. 1.—A sudden turn for the worse in the condition of President Paul von Hindenburg was reported to-night by the physicians attending him.

They issued the following bulletin: "The President's weakness is increasing. He is gradually losing consciousness. His heart is slowing." Previous to that announcement, the immense vitality of the eighty-six-year-old former field marshal had caused a ray of hope that he might weather his present illness. For a time the physicians even ceased giving out bulletins.

School Problem Has Wide Scope

Education, they claim, is a service which benefits every person in the community. That is why it should not fall to such a large extent upon the shoulders of a few. Especially in the urban areas the land-owning class is numerically a proportionately small section of the population.

Of course, those who rent houses or apartments pay a portion of the land tax through the rentals, but municipal leaders have gone into the question a bit more deeply.

Their contention is that until land is relieved of its taxation burden ordinary business will not revive. They are driving for a wholesale lifting of this load, and because school taxes form a substantial part of it, have directed their efforts towards lightening them first. Charges for hospitals and relief also have no direct relationship to land, they claim, and should be similarly treated.

Involved in the recommendations are changes in the whole incidence of taxation in the province. While this question is receiving the attention of the finance department at the present time, it is considered hardly likely the change would be made in one year, but gradually adopted as a policy over a period of years, if it finds favor with the government.

Another favorable change in the wind has enabled firefighters to hold the raging flames on lower Sheep Creek. That fire had previously destroyed the Emerald mining camp, but it was believed other mining properties in the district were safe.

The large highway relief camp, south of here, was reported safe after a crew of firefighters had fought for two days, during which time much of the camp equipment had been destroyed. Some of the men had slept at the highway camp since Sunday night, but the majority had taken their meals there.

SHINGLE TRADE ON NEW BASIS

Limitation of Canadian Shipments Is New Angle Of the NRA

Associated Press

Washington, Aug. 1.—The implied agreement of the Tariff Commission to an agreement limiting the flow of Canadian shingles into United States markets was interpreted by some members of the lumber industry today as evidence the full force and effect of the NRA industry control will be placed behind President Roosevelt's programme for increased exports through reciprocal tariff agreements.

The agreement limits the importation of Canadian shingles to 15 per cent of the domestic demand and was approved only after an extended tariff commission investigation and negotiations between the State Department, the imports section of the NRA and the Canadian legation.

The original agreement stipulated Canadian manufacturers should be allotted 30 per cent of the domestic demand, but this was increased to 25 per cent after it was shown Canadian exports to this country equaled approximately 55 per cent of the demand in 1922 and 1923 and reached 57 per cent in September, 1933.

Although no definite announcement came from the Tariff Commission, the fact the agreement obtained final approval from the State Department and the NRA was interpreted as meaning the Tariff Commission had approved the plan. The agreement was looked on as an important precedent for the President in future reciprocal agreements and limitations of imports.

To aid in policing the new arrangement, the State Department requested the necessary arrangements with the Secretary of the Treasury for providing an adequate number of inspectors to check the shipments of red cedar shingles to this country from Canada. The allocation of allowable shipments will be made on a quarterly basis.

Want More Pay: Mayor In- sists Council's Course Will Be "No Work—No Pay"

Canadian Press

New Westminster, Aug. 1.—Men on the relief list who reported for work on five civic jobs this morning, after drawing their usual allowances, opening the tool boxes, simultaneously downed tools, posted placards on each job and announced they had quit work.

About 150 men took this unexpected action. The gangs were to have been employed on the Columbia Street division, sewer repairs, road grading, hospital and cemetery grounds. Spokesmen told the townsmen the men demanded fifty cents an hour and an additional $12 a month on their relief allowances.

A resolution embracing these demands was presented and passed during a meeting of city council last here at Albert Crescent on Sunday. The striking men assembled to-day at Moody Square and later a deputa-tion of seventy called on the relief officer and presented their demands.

They stated their action was a protest against the new relief regulations which came into effect to-day.

MAYOR'S ATTITUDE

Immediately he heard of the incident, Mayor F. J. Ryan announced he was adamant in his stand that the policy must be "No work—No Pay."

"We know many unemployed residents of this city wish to work for their relief allowances and we plan to help them by giving them work," he stated after a conference with the chief of police and the works superintendent.

"We will not do anything about this. The taxpayers are the ones who should kick, not the unemployed who have been well treated in New Westminster."

"If they will not work we cannot give them a cent," he added.

There were approximately 500 men on the relief list it was announced.

B.C. Premier Says Canada Should Lay Out $150,000,000

Ottawa, Aug. 1.—Provincial premiers and ministers were relating to-day after two days' intensive study of the relief problem and facing the necessity of returning home with lighter budgets so far as federal aid for direct relief was concerned, and some of them none too happy about it.

Taken unaware by the un-heralded announcement of Prime Minister Bennett that from now until March 31, 1935, when the relief act expires, the Dominion government will give grants-in-aid, payable in monthly instalments to the several provinces to assist them to discharge their constitutional responsibility for the relief of necessitous unemployed persons within their areas.

The amount of such grants will be arranged between the Dominion and each province, and will give recognition on the one hand to the conditions still prevailing in the various parts of Canada as regards unemployment and ability of the provinces to meet these conditions; and on the other hand to the urgent necessity of bringing about a reduction in public expenditures for direct relief as rapidly as possible, both by the close scrutiny of relief administration on the part of local and provincial authorities, and as a result of the generally improving economic conditions throughout the Dominion.

WARD RELIEF ADMINISTRATION AS FOLLOWS

Commencing August 1 and up to and including March 31, 1935, on which date the relief act of 1934 will expire, the Dominion government will give grants-in-aid, payable in monthly instalments to the several provinces to assist them to discharge their constitutional responsibility for the relief of necessitous unemployed persons within their areas.

The amount of such grants will be arranged between the Dominion and each province, and will give recognition on the one hand to the conditions still prevailing in the various parts of Canada as regards unemployment and ability of the provinces to meet these conditions; and on the other hand to the urgent necessity of bringing about a reduction in public expenditures for direct relief as rapidly as possible, both by the close scrutiny of relief administration on the part of local and provincial authorities, and as a result of the generally improving economic conditions throughout the Dominion.

WILL CONTINUE CAMPS

In addition the government undertakes:

(1) To continue its present provision for single homeless unemployed men in need of relief in federally operated camps up to the authorized maximum of 20,170 men until March 31, 1935.

(2) To maintain the agreements under the relief act, 1933, that have been entered into with the several provinces respecting the Transcanada Highway.

(3) To carry out existing agreements in respect of the settlement of persons in need of relief on the land.

(4) To continue the existing agreements in respect of farm placements.

(5) To take into consideration the extraordinary conditions prevailing in the several provinces and require special financial assistance to provincial governments in connection with the movement of livestock and fowls and the provision of seed grain in distressed areas.

WORKS PROGRAMME

(6) That the programme for the construction of public works initiated by the Dominion government will not be effected by the provision of the grants in aid of provincial expenditures for relief purposes contemplated.

(7) That the question of Dominion co-operation in public works undertaken by provincial governments for relief of unemployment will be considered by the government directly concerned in each case.

WE CONSIDER it a duty to help you get the very best VALUE for your money when you buy your Fur Coat. Naturally, you will "shop around." When you do, remember that price . . . alone . . . means very little. It is important only when you consider these points:

1. The coat should be FULL LENGTH (usually 48 or 49 inches) if it is a this-season style.
2. It should be cut in the newest mode. (We will show you our coats . . . we will show you the pictures of the most advanced styles in the newest furriers' fashion journals. Compare.)
3. The coats should be fashioned from new, FRESH, best quality skins. Come in and let us explain.
4. Workmanship should be thorough, EXPERT . . . to assure smartness, long service and wear.
5. Linings should be of rich, durable silk.
6. Quality should bear an unqualified guarantee.

ONLY when these conditions are met does price take on a real meaning with regard to VALUE. By all means "shop around." We will be glad to place an expert knowledge gained in 23 years of experience at your disposal. We will be glad to show you the largest selection of NEW and FINE QUALITY Fur Coats in Victoria.

German President Losing Fight for Life

Opposition of the regular army in this event was held likely by some observers.

It was shortly afterward that Chancellor Hitler today.

The Chancellor—the man who once served in Marshal von Hindenburg's army as a corporal—came to his bedside from Berlin by airplane. He remained one hour and a quarter and then left with his staff.

At 12:30 p.m. the physicians announced:

"Condition as compared with this morning is unchanged. Full consciousness remains. Toward noon the patient took light nourishment."

It was shortly afterward that Chancellor Hitler and a party arrived by automobile from the airport at Marburg. The party composed an entourage of nine automobiles, each carrying seven men. Most of them were members of the Schutz Staffeln—the black shirted special guard which Hitler organized.

Others in the party included Otto Meisner, secretary to the President; Wilhelm Bruchmann, adjutant to the Chancellor; Ernst Hanfstaengl, confidante of Hitler, and Heinrich Hoffmann, Hitler's photographer and companion on flying visits.

Nervousness appeared to be growing among the deeply concerned onlookers. "Why are we being kept in the dark about Father Hindenburg?"

Newspapers merely printed the briefest of bulletins.

He is being attended by four famous physicians. But Hindenburg yesterday called in Dr. Dietz, a country doctor.

A tense quiet prevailed at Marburg. Storm troops and secret police did not permit crowds to gather.

Meisner, who is considered the closest to President von Hindenburg, remained at Marburg.

Th bulletins regarding the President's condition were not given out to Freytag and the populace there was plainly worried.

By Louis F. Lochner, Associated Press Correspondent

Berlin, Aug. 1.—Adolf Hitler intends to be both President and Chancellor of Germany, one of his friends told the Associated Press to-day.

This would give Hitler a dictatorship as absolute as any in the world. It would mean that he would govern the Reich as he pleased, without the check of a cabinet or a parliament.

The German press was commanded not to speculate on Von Hindenburg's recovery.

REPORTED WEAKNESS

Physicians watching over the President so he lies near death at Marburg, Aug. 1, reported he was weaker to-day. The end of the eighty-year-old leader seemed near.

Despair gripped many conservative who had looked on Hindenburg as an anchor against extreme Nazis.

At Von Hindenburg's death, the Associated Press informant said, Hitler would call the cabinet together and read a brief law concentrating power in himself as President and Chancellor.

An indication of the reliability of this source is that Sunday he reported Von Hindenburg's turn for the worse and was the first man to tell of the fact Hitler was going to Marburg to meet President Hindenburg. Under the constitution Dr. Brüning, president of the supreme court, would become Acting President until an election could be held to choose a successor.

STAGE ALL SET

"All that has been taken care of was the term statement of the propaganda bureau on the matter of succession. To many observers it indicated the stage has been set for Hitler."

Hitler's powers would become unlimited. They would include that of naming and dismissing the Reichstag, and the power to appoint and dismiss judges, officers of the army, who is said not to be in accord with Nazi policies.

Political circles regarded it as open question whether the Reichstag, devoted to Von Hindenburg, would quickly accept subordination to Hitler. Hitler may encounter a position in his reported plans to be both offices.

MANY SUMMONS

Berlin, Aug. 1.—Since the sanguinary events of June 30, nothing is given such an importance as the occupation of the German people rumor mongering—as the press line of President Paul von Hindenburg.

It is usual in a time of crisis, newspapers have been completely muzzled, and the most startling reports are being circulated by word of mouth.

It is said, for example, that Hindenburg, who is now thought to be in his last hours, has written a political will urging restoration of the monarchy. The report gains some credence when it is recalled that aged president always was faithful to the Kaiser.

Should there be any truth to observers pointed out, and should a plan prove acceptable to the Reichstag, which seems very improbable, twenty-seven-year-old son of Crown Prince Friedrich Wilhelm Louis Ferdinand, who is now working in the Ford factory at Ford, would probably be heir to the throne. The ex-Kaiser and the ex-Crown Prince both abdicated and the Crown Prince's first son is considered to be married a commoner.

TAXES CRIPPLE HANKOW BUSINESS

Hankow, China, Aug. 1.—Extortionate taxation has so effectively crippled business here that in the entire city, outside the foreign-controlled area, fully half the shops are closed and shuttered, and the number of bankruptcies increases every week. The depression started when the military forces forced property owners to pay land taxes five and six years in advance. FRAU DOLLEUSS AGAIN IN ITALY

Riccione, Italy, Aug. 1.—Frau Dolleuss, widow of Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss of Austria, yesterday returned to her two children, clad in full mourning. Donna Rachele Mussolini, wife of the Premier of Italy, brought Rudolf, nine, and Eva, ten, to the railroad station to meet their returning mother. Frau Dolleuss wept bitterly and embraced the two sobbing children. Then she embraced Signora Mussolini and thanked her tenderly for great emotion for having cared for the two children during the days of tragedy since their father was shot down July 25 in the chancellery in Vienna.

DUTY ON OLD NEWSPAPERS

Canton, China, Aug. 1.—The Chinese government has imposed an import tax of $1 on every 100 pounds of old newspapers imported from abroad. It has been ascertained that thousands of tons of old newspapers are brought to Canton annually and are sold to the poorer classes, which use them as wrapping paper. These importations are said to cripple the Chinese paper-making industry, hence the new import tax.

Above is a picture of wreckage of the bus in which sixteen persons were burned to death and twenty-five others were injured when the machine plunged twenty-five feet from a ramp at Ossining, N.Y., and burst into flames. The gasoline tank exploded and the fire from the bus ignited a lumber yard nearby. The bus was one of several carrying a large party from New York City to Ossining.

TORONTO SCENE OF VETERANS' REUNION

Ex-service Men and Former Nurses of Canada's Overseas Army Assemble; Expected 50,000 Will Attend Sessions

Toronto, Aug. 1.—Veterans of the war trooped into Toronto today to prepare for the greatest gathering of those who fought in the great conflict since 1918. Between 50,000 and 60,000 of the veterans are expected to crowd into the city for the opening of the Canadian Corps reunion Saturday. Women also will have a part in the proceedings, as those who served overseas as nurses will join in the reunion.

U.S. NEWSPRINT DUTY IS URGED

Rochester, N.Y., Aug. 1.—An appeal for restoration of tariff protection for the United States newsprint industry was voiced yesterday at the thirty-eighth annual convention of the New York State Printing Trades Council. The speaker was Matthew Burns of New York, president of the International Brotherhood of Paper Makers. He said removal of tariff protection on newsprint paper in 1918 resulted in papermaking becoming one of the largest industries in Canada, and that the lower standard of living prevailing among workers there had resulted in hardships for United States paper makers.

FIREMAN HURT BY PROWLER

Vancouver, Aug. 1.—An early morning prowler visited No. 4 Fire Hall at Charles and Salisbury Streets yesterday and left with a couple of five extinguishers after having knocked fireman C. Campbell unconscious with one of them. Campbell was on duty on the upper floor, heard a noise and slid down the pole to investigate. A full-throated fireman lay on the floor while the prowler went on his way. Campbell is in the Vancouver General Hospital.

Hair Cut Price Set in Vancouver

Vancouver, Aug. 1.—Three hundred members of the Greater Vancouver Barber's Guild, meeting in the Elks' Hall, Dunsmuir Street, Monday evening, unanimously approved a motion that a minimum of thirty-five cents be established as the price of a haircut. This price was chosen, as it is said to be the minimum that can be charged and still give sufficient revenue to pay employees $15 weekly, the minimum wage set by the industrial relations board, which will go into effect Thursday.

WHEAT PRICE TILT IN FRANCE

Paris, Aug. 1.—The millers of France yesterday openly defied the government's efforts to regulate the price of wheat. In a letter to Premier Gaston Doumergue, the National Association of Millers said it would refuse to abide by the law which fixes the price of harvested wheat at $2.50 a bushel and the coming crop at $1.50.

SETTLEMENT IN LAND DISPUTE

Mother and Son Divide Property Equally in Nanaimo Suit

Nanaimo, Aug. 1.—Two hundred acres of land in the Cedar district, on Holden Lake, will be divided equally between Mrs. Mary Alice Robert and her son, Alvin J. Robert, with the mother taking that portion upon which the dwelling stands. It was decided yesterday in a Supreme Court judgment handed down by Chief Justice Aulay Morrison. The case was heard June 22.

Robert and his brother together purchased the land and Mrs. Robert, with the consent of her son, built and paid for a residence on the property at a cost of $6,430. For several years she resided there with Alvin Robert, his brother and brother's wife and two children. Mrs. Robert visited London and, on her return, brought with her a travelling companion, Miss Irene Fisher. On March 6, 1934, Miss Fisher married Alvin Robert.

BIG LOSSES IN NORTH DAKOTA

Drought Takes Great Toll; Relief Given 200,000 People

Bismarck, N.D., Aug. 1.—The drought has hit North Dakota hard. Virtually one-third of the state's entire population is on federal relief rolls. Farmers are producing only "miniature" crops. "Two hundred persons in one section are to be moved by federal authority from unlivable farms. Drifting top-soil has damaged the highway system by more than $500,000. Additional thousands of persons are expected to seek relief when winter comes. Once known as an important grain state, North Dakota faces today a bleak agricultural future. A steady increase in the number of persons on relief rolls is noted by E. A. Wilson, state administrator of federal relief. "Fifty thousand families, approximately 200,000 persons, are on relief rolls, a situation directly traceable to the drought," Wilson said. "Some are on part-relief, some total relief, some on only stock relief." Six thousand cattle are being moved out of North Dakota daily. More than 800,000 head of cattle have been shipped in the last two months. Approximately 600,000 head have been purchased in the government's plan to reduce the cattle population to 1,000,000 head.

To relieve parched human throats, federal agencies are hastening the establishment of a new corporation, whose purpose will be to extend funds to dig wells to provide water for farms now nearly arid. Community wells will be dug, perhaps on farms, perhaps on some public property.

EX-OFFICIALS PAID $100,000

Former Pensions Tribunal Members Receive Compensation at Ottawa

Ottawa, Aug. 1.—Payment of compensation to former members of the Canadian Pensions Tribunal and the old Federal Appeal Board, whose services were terminated by legislative action in 1931 and 1933, respectively, went forward yesterday. Thirteen former officials of these pension bodies receiving compensation amount in the aggregate to $100,000. Those to whom this "windfall" comes are G. B. Reilly, C. W. E. Meath, Dr. B. L. Wickware and John Roy, of the old Federal Appeal Board, and Colonel L. H. Mackenzie, Colonel Norman T. MacLeod, Colonel J. T. C. Gagnon, Captain J. I. Grover, Major J. P. MacKay, Captain E. O. MacKensie, Colonel C. W. Peck, V.C., and Major Leo St. C. Ward, of the Pensions Tribunal. The cheques were issued by the Finance Department. In some cases the amount of compensation runs as high as $10,000. The money being paid is in compensation for the unpaid portion of their term.

BRITISH M.P.'S TAKE HOLIDAY

London, Aug. 1.—Both Houses of Parliament adjourned yesterday. The recess will last until October 1, unless the Lord Chancellor and the Speaker decide the public interest requires an earlier reassembly. During the part of the session just completed, parliament passed almost fifty public bills. Those left for the autumn include the Betting and Lotteries Bill and a measure designed to curb and punish inciting disaffection and promote His Majesty's forces. When the House of Commons resumes its session in the autumn most of the outstanding business is expected to be cleared up in a fortnight or three weeks, after which the new session will be opened at once. The chief issue at the next session will be that of a new constitution for India.

Baldwin Defence Speech Studied

French and Belgian Papers Comment on Reference To Rhine

Paris, Aug. 1.—Two newspapers, The Echo de Paris and Le Jour, yesterday commented editorially on Acting Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin's declaration Monday in the House of Commons in London that the British air frontier was no longer the Dover cliffs but the Rhine. The statement was made in the course of Mr. Baldwin's defence of the new air programme. The Echo de Paris said: "It is not implicitly admitting that the two states, formerly the Entente Cordiale, are now launched for the same destiny?" Also approving Great Britain's air force increase, Le Jour said: "Mr. Baldwin evoked obligations contracted by Great Britain on the continent. This situation to Lorraine in serious circumstances may calm certain effervescences. Twenty years ago such a remark would have sufficed to prevent the war."

Canadian Press from Ottawa: Brussels, Aug. 1.—Belgium received with expressions of delight Acting Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin's declaration in the British House of Commons that Britain's frontier was no longer the Dover cliffs of Dover but the banks of the Rhine. All the newspapers of Belgium yesterday gave front page prominence to Mr. Baldwin's words. Many recalled Sir John Simon's words of fifteen years ago that integrity of Belgium territory was more than ever a factor essential to British security.

No Reciprocity Treaty Move

Canada Among Countries Dropped From Negotiation List By U.S.

Washington, Aug. 1.—Political and economic questions have eliminated Canada and at least five other nations—including some of the best customers for United States goods—from immediate consideration in negotiations for new reciprocal trade agreements. An authoritative source yesterday disclosed the State Department and the President's tariff bargaining committee have no plans for instituting negotiations in the near future with Canada, Great Britain, Germany, Soviet Russia, Argentina and Austria. Several other nations are likewise being made up by the tariff committee, Sweden, Portugal and several other European nations still are under consideration for early negotiations. Brazil and a bloc of Latin-American nations, producing 50 per cent of the country's coffee imports, are scheduled for new reciprocal agreements as quickly as the Cuban agreement, now nearing completion, is finished.

QUESTIONS BY MERRIDGE
The status of the countries not yet on the bargaining list is: Canada—Reciprocity is a political issue in Canada and, although it is not expected that the Canadian government will make any move to negotiate, there is no expectation of active negotiations until the next session of the Board of Trade, which is set for the Dominion's political parties. Great Britain—Mr. H. C. Walter, President of the Board of Trade, has announced Great Britain has no objection to any immediate negotiations. Germany—Officials here believe the unsettled political and economic situation in Germany is not conducive to successful negotiations with the British government at present. NEGOTIATIONS WITH RUSSIA
Soviet Russia—Trade agreement negotiations must wait for a successful conclusion of debt and claims negotiations now in progress. Argentina—Argentina's chief exports are in competition with the middle western output of the United States. Austria—The complicated political and economic situation in Austria is not conducive to negotiations for a new trade agreement.

NO AGREEMENT TO UNITE IN WAR

Ottawa, Aug. 1.—Advice from Washington that Canada has been eliminated because of political and economic questions from the list of nations to which the United States proposes negotiation of reciprocal trade treaties doubtless will cause widespread disappointment to Canadian business men. Prime Minister Bennett visited Washington soon after President Roosevelt assumed office rumors have been current that the United States was negotiating a reciprocal trade with the United States. No officials have as yet been quoted on the subject. It is known that for a long time the Canadian Government has been prepared to enter into practical discussions of such a treaty. It is unlikely that any political considerations would prevent the making of a trade treaty with the United States.

Premier Hertzog Denies South Africa Has Understanding With Britain

Canadian Press Cable via Reuters: Bloemfontein, South Africa, Aug. 1.—Prime Minister J. B. M. Hertzog said Hon. Oswald Pirow, Minister of Railways and defence, yesterday evening denied with emphasis a secret agreement existed between South Africa and the United Kingdom regarding the Union's participation in any future war. The ministers were speaking at a meeting of the Orange Free State National Congress. They declared the decision to go to war would rest entirely with the South African Parliament and the people. The Prime Minister emphasized what he regarded as the importance of maintaining friendship with Britain and the other Dominions. He said in part: "From the moment the British government declared willingness to grant the Dominions the fullest independence I determined that only one policy should therefore be followed by South Africa, namely, to extend a maximum of friendship, goodwill and co-operation to Great Britain and the other Dominions in a spirit of international friendship and fraternity. That is the only policy that will be followed by the new government in South Africa. This co-operation will continue as long as the people will it."

SEARCH FOR TWO GIRLS AT SEATTLE

Seattle, July 31.—Missing twenty-four hours, fears were felt today that Wilma and Gladys, eleven, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Carson of Cordova, Alaska, may have drowned. They left the home early yesterday with their bathing suits over their shoulders and have been missing since. Police checked a report that two girls resembling the missing youngsters rented bicycles from a battery shop here yesterday and failed to return them. Mrs. Carson said the girls "loved the water; they always wanted to swim and were good swimmers for little girls." The Carsons left Cordova in May, first going to Vancouver, B.C.

Summer Brings Demand For Lambs

During the next sixty days the volume of new crop lambs will continue to increase in keeping with retail demand as enhanced by tourists, conventions and our own Canadian people who naturally turn to the lighter and more healthful meats during the summer months, says A. A. MacMillan of the Dominion Livestock Branch. Tourist centres will secure their supplies for the most part from local farm-kills, especially where such centres are in the midst of the sheep raising country. Lack of rain causing shortage of pastures in western and central Ontario created some liquidation of light, unfinished lambs in June. These lambs had a depressing effect on lamb prices. However, the market gives evidence of strength immediately quality improves. Farmers are advised to check weights carefully. No lambs under seventy pounds of the farm should be shipped. At the season advances eighty pounds weight at the farm is preferable to seventy.

Higher prices for lambs and a steady advancement of the industry make it possible for farmers to pay more attention to the preparation of lambs for market. There is evidence that farmers are watching market prices and checking closer on lamb weights, so that lambs, as they reach desirable weights, are picked out of the flock and shipped to market, mainly by truck, as this service enables any farmer to dispose of single animals as well as groups.

Poultry Laying Mash And Grain Mixtures

Laying mixtures for poultry are given as under in the report of the committee on feed rations for the Maritime provinces just published by the Dominion Department of Agriculture:
No. 1 mash—One hundred pounds bran, 100 pounds middlings (or 200 pounds finely ground wheat in place of the bran and middlings), 100 pounds ground corn, 100 pounds ground oats, 50 pounds fish meal or meat scrap and 3 pounds salt.
Scratch grain—Two hundred pounds cracked corn, 200 pounds wheat and 100 pounds oats.
No. 2 mash—One hundred pounds ground wheat, 100 pounds ground barley or oats, 100 pounds ground corn, 50 pounds fish meal or meat scrap and 3 pounds salt.
Scratch grain—One hundred pounds wheat, 100 pounds barley and 100 pounds oats.
No. 3 mash—One hundred pounds bran, 100 pounds ground wheat or barley, 100 pounds ground oats, 50 pounds fish meal or meat scrap and 3 pounds salt.
Scratch grain—One hundred pounds cracked corn, 100 pounds cracked corn and 100 pounds oats.
The most satisfactory method of feeding mash is to keep it in hoppers constantly before the flock. However, it may be fed moistened and table scraps, if available, may be conveniently utilized by mixing them with the mash.

PIONEERING DAYS

PIONEERING DAYS HAVE NOT PASSED
 in Alberta, says The Calgary Herald, in commenting on the 3,706 homestead entries which were filed at the land offices of the province in the year ending on April 1.

More than two-thirds of the number, our contemporary observes, were entered at the offices in Edmonton and Peace River, showing that by far the larger area of the newly-taken land lies in the northern section of Alberta.

Of the total, 696 were second entries, in many cases made by men who had formerly homesteaded in the dry areas and moved north when repeated crop failures brought discouragement there. But nearly 3,000 were first homesteads, recorded no doubt in large numbers by men and women who under pressure of adverse conditions made the decision to leave the cities and get back to the land.

It is noted that more than 1,000 of the entries were filed by women. Canadians headed the list in the homestead parade, 1,208 strong, of whom 580 were natives of Alberta. The United States contributed the largest number coming from any foreign country, 444. The British Isles supplied 293 of the homesteaders, the Ukrainians 245 and Poland 240.

Farming, says The Herald, has not been a dividend-paying business in the deflation years. But walking the streets looking for a job that did not exist has brought still poorer returns. Given health and any ordinary luck a man on a quarter-section of land can get the necessities of life for himself and his family, with a chance of ultimately establishing himself beyond risk of want or dependence upon others. That consideration has, of course, been the "prime mover" of the trek toward the homestead in Alberta.

A similar movement to the land is reported also in the United States whose rural population has noticeably increased in the last few years. But the republic lacks the vast unsettled areas which in Canada await development, and the trend from its cities necessarily must be limited. In Canada the opportunities are almost unlimited, since this Dominion can accommodate ten times its present population. We are still in the covered wagon stage of our progress in many aspects and the sooner that elementary fact is generally appreciated the better it will be for the country's future. Canada should be administered and its youth educated with that in mind. In few other countries of the world is rural development so primary a consideration as it should be in this Dominion.

A WARNING

The fate of Dollfus and the hectic conditions in Germany and Austria do not present an attractive advertisement of the blessings of dictatorship. Democracy has its deficiencies, but its election campaigns, debates in Parliaments, congresses and legislatures, even the incompetence and corruption which are occasionally revealed under the democratic system—although of course never under dictatorships—present a refreshing contrast to civil war, wholesale executions without trial, racial persecution, assassinations, which have marked the era of dictatorships in continental Europe. Democracies can put their houses in order by peaceful means when the public so decides, but this can not be done in countries which have abolished representative institutions and proscribed liberty of thought, action and conscience, except by force and violence.

The Manchester Guardian recently pointed this moral in an arresting manner when it said:

"Talk as you will of the defects of democracy and the failure of Parliamentary institutions, but what system of government can show a more hideous failure than the blood-boltered page of history that was written on the last day of June, 1934, at Munich and Berlin? It was no accidental twist in a structure otherwise blameless; it was inherent in the very theory of force which sustains the whole edifice. In face of that object-less believers in Parliaments and ballot-boxes can make a present to their critics of any flaws that may be discoverable in the elected assemblies of an admittedly imperfect world. At least the arguments heard in those assemblies do not end with blood as their peroration, and of two evils even dubious and self-interested finance is preferable to brute force. Dictators and would-be dictators may rest assured that the peoples of the world have had their warning and that it has not gone unnoted. The defects of democracy can and will be corrected. In the meantime better even a series of Tammany Halls than a single Munich Brown House."

CITY EMPLOYEES

DISCUSSION AT RECENT MEETINGS
 of the Victoria City Council regarding city employees who have homes in neighboring municipalities, has aroused a good deal of comment in the community. Although the members of the City Council naturally view the matter largely from the angle of property-owners' tax contributions to the city treasury there is a much broader aspect to be taken into consideration. With a Greater Victoria as a steady objective and an ultimate probability the view which would force city employees to reside in Victoria seems inopportune. It must also be remembered that the comparatively few dollars which, out of his total income, the employee pays in taxes is but a small item when it is remembered that most of the remainder of his income circulates through Victoria stores. Another angle to be taken into consideration, and which particularly applies to teachers in the municipality of Saanich, is that if Victoria decided to rule that all of its employees must live in Victoria, Saanich might very well take the same stand. The exodus of Saanich teachers living in Victoria homes would probably outweigh any advantage Victoria might gain by forcing its own workers from Saanich to Victoria.

ONLY ONE CODE

THERE IS NOTHING AMBIGUOUS OR
 obscure in the charter of Christianity given by its founder in the Sermon on the Mount, or in the ten commandments issued by the great law-giver of Israel many centuries before. Nor were there in either deliverance any parenthetical reservations and qualifications, or any special exemptions. Both were clear and explicit, and intended for all people without regard to race, class, creed or other distinction, or any kind of organization, association or combination whether imperial, national, commercial, political or social, into which humanity might divide or form itself.

The theory that these pronouncements do not mean what they say when applied to nations, that there is an altogether different code of Mosaic or Christian morality applicable to national organizations from that which is applicable to the people of whom those organizations are composed, is as pagan as voodooism. It is as far-fetched as the theory that they are applicable to individuals only on the Sabbath and remain suspended during the other six days.

The inconsistencies of the so-called Christian world throughout the centuries between precept and example, pretence and conduct, the spectacle of nations breaking every one of the ten commandments and violating every principle in the Sermon on the Mount relative to peace, and now preparing to do it again, has naturally alienated the respect of the countless millions who constitute the non-so-called Christian world, and hardened their determination to stick to their own gods, canons and philosophies. If that part of humanity which calls itself civilized intends to live on a plane which in its real essential elements is far below that of many whom it parasitically dubs as pagans, it should have the decency to refrain from calling itself Christian.

MEMORIAL AVENUE

THE FOUR MILES OF TREES ALONG
 Shelbourne Street should be our most impressive war memorial, since it combines natural beauty, utility, permanence and a fine symbolism. With proper attention this thoroughfare could be made the most striking tribute to those who lost their lives in the great struggle of twenty years ago to be found anywhere in western Canada, besides being one of the community's most attractive scenic assets.

Nor would the cost be formidable in the light of the purpose for which the memorial was intended, and the fact that nature does most of the work. It is gratifying to note that a committee of the Canadian Legion is taking the matter in hand and will call a public meeting next month to consider ways and means of keeping the avenue in good condition. It is to be hoped that from the gathering some effective course of action will arise.

Technocrats tell us that under technocracy there will be less work than there is now, and everybody will be happy with well-filled larders and all the other essentials of an elysian existence. Just now, however, what is wanted is more, not less, work. Nor is there anything to show that the millions who are on relief are enjoying their leisure. On the contrary, they are suffering from the loss of morale and physical health which idleness and lack of responsibility always impose on everybody whether rich or poor. It will be many centuries before society will be able to adjust itself to a condition in which there will be more loafing than work.

There can not be too much of the right kind of education. The condition of the world shows that it really has been under-educated, and for that reason much of the money expended upon its education has been wasted. Sound, efficient education always pays for itself many times over. There is no more imperative reform needed to-day than educational reform.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

PAYMENT IN KIND
 The Manchester Guardian

Walden Washington care for a few thousand tons of Malaya tin and Rhodesian copper to be delivered for the Tennessee Valley power stations? Or free chests of tea for the institution of an afternoon refreshment in government offices and barracks, not hitherto provided? Or an English education for some thousands of scholarship winners? When we know what Washington would like from us, then we, too, could begin thinking what sort of wealth in kind we could encourage our debtors Germany, France, and Italy to send us for the assistance of public enterprise or public well-being.

THE DEMOGRAPHIC SITUATION IN FRANCE
 L'Ordre, Montreal

The destruction of patrimony, the negation of the right of seniority, the virtual confiscation of inheritances for the benefit of an egalitarian state, the practical advantages given to bachelors over married men, the effect of the divorce law on the instability of marriage, these are some of the causes which have brought France to the demographic level which is to-day deplored by the Superior Council of Natality. Add this demographic situation, itself an indication of a deplorable social condition, has and social, economic and political repercussions, not the least of which is the influx of foreigners into a population formerly stable, prolific and homogeneous.

LIBRARIES
 La Presse, Montreal

We are convinced that libraries, carefully organized and directed by competent persons, stocked with works adapted to the needs of the neighboring population, have their place in the country as well as in town. They would help to keep many families on the land, by providing them with a means of distraction and a useful employment for their leisure, besides putting at their disposal works of reference regarding their occupation. In the cities the public library is practically the only place where young men and women can add to their store of knowledge, after the closing of their regular courses of study. For this reason, we profoundly hope that, as soon as the depression is over, the municipal authorities will find ways and means of adding to the number of our libraries and particularly to help in re-opening the Saanich library, which has been closed for too long, and which contains literary wealth that should not be kept from the people.

A THOUGHT

Now are the mighty fallen in the midst of the battle? O Jonathan, thou wast slain in thine high places.—II Samuel 1:33.

Loose Ends

A series of marvellous coincidences is planned to save the world from peppermint man—a leader figure visits Canada—Victoria has odd tastes—and Henry's apostasy.

By H. B. W.

PEPPERMINT MAN

WHEN MY GOVERNMENT
 returned to office one of these days, our first official act will be to order the instant execution, without trial, of all persons who maintain a running comment on the movies during the show. This will mean a lot of executions, but the added comfort of the general population will justify the expense.

Last night I had the misfortune to witness a preposterous detective story on the screen and the crude horror of it was greatly enhanced by a little man who sat behind me, sucking peppermints and explaining the whole thing to his wife, who must have been less than half-witted if she couldn't understand it herself.

At one point the detective was loaded into an automobile by thugs and dumped into a canal. They've been seen in their seats, blood running realistically from their mouths. "They've murdered 'em," the peppermint man exclaimed, and I could tell that he was having difficulty in controlling his emotions.

"Oh," said his wife. "The villain pulled a gun and fired. The hero dodged and fell on his face. He's shot 'em, that's what," said the peppermint man. "He's falling. He's been hit, I tell you."

Some thugs swept by a parked car and opened fire on the occupants with machine guns. The occupants collapsed in their seats, blood running realistically from their mouths. "They've murdered 'em," the peppermint man exclaimed, and I could tell that he was having difficulty in controlling his emotions.

"Oh," said his wife. "The villain pulled a gun and fired. The hero dodged and fell on his face. He's shot 'em, that's what," said the peppermint man. "He's falling. He's been hit, I tell you."

"Oh," said his wife. "The villain pulled a gun and fired. The hero dodged and fell on his face. He's shot 'em, that's what," said the peppermint man. "He's falling. He's been hit, I tell you."

"M-m-m-m," said his wife.

TRAGIC FIGURE

MR. RAMSAY MACDONALD, who is now in Canada, presents a curious study which will deeply interest the historians of the next hundred years. They will write books trying to explain him. They will analyze his astounding change of political outlook. They will try to explain how it happened. And in the end all of them will agree that the career of Mr. MacDonald ended in a bitter tragedy, that his place in history would have been a hundred times more eminent if he had left politics five years ago and retired to his golf at Lonsington.

What a curious contradiction that career has been. Here was one of the most courageous and intelligent men of the people that England had known in modern times, a man who had not feared to accept the cheap and vicious contempt of the whole nation for his belief that Britain had no business in Europe's wars. Here was a man who had lived to make the first Labor government England had known. And now you find that the great Socialist, the great pacifist, is a prisoner in the camp of the enemy, at the head of a reactionary Conservative government which is fighting all Mr. MacDonald's old ideas and his old companions to the death, which is busy getting ready for the next war on a grand scale, and which also seems to be getting ready to unload Mr. MacDonald in name as well as in fact.

This, though it is little noted in our time and taken as a matter of course, will be one of the great personal mysteries of British politics in the next generation, one of the tragic legends over which history will shake its head.

PECULIAR TASTES

VICTORIA'S TASTES, as I have sometimes remarked, are often peculiar. The other day, for instance, the horticultural association held a flower show at the Willows. It was by far the best show ever held in Victoria and probably in western Canada. An expert horticulturist from Honolulu, the land of flowers, said nothing like it had ever been seen down there. American visitors went into ecstasies over the exhibition of bloom, which, crammed the building to capacity. You would imagine from the number and quality of the flowers exhibited, and also from the number and quality of Victoria gardens generally, that this city was keen on gardening, that a flower show of this sort would be a kind of community celebration. Well, the attendance at the flower show was tragically small. One doubts that it will cover the expense incurred by those enterprising citizens who staged it, but the movies were filled as usual in this city of flowers.

LIQUOR VENDORS

THE OTHER NIGHT I gave an absolutely accurate account of how my nervous friend, Henry, bought a bottle of brandy in a government liquor store for a sick friend (Henry said it was for a sick friend, anyway). They tell me that some of the fellows who work in the liquor stores were rather annoyed at Henry's description of them. I judge that the qualifications of a liquor vendor do not necessarily include a high sense of humor, or perhaps I should say a low sense.

Anyway, it was Henry's notion of liquor stores entirely, not mine. I took his word for it, never having been in one myself. As for me, I have always found them very cheerful sort of places; or would have, if I mean, if I had ever been in one. The glistering friendly-looking bottles, the obliging vendors in their uniform linen coats, the look of prosperity and active business everywhere apparent—well, if I had ever been in a liquor store I know I should have thought it was quite a jolly place.

But Henry is a headstrong fellow and easily upset. I have rubbed him for making the liquor vendors feel badly. He says he don't dare go into a liquor store again and his sick friends can just do without their brandy, that's all. I told him that was all very well, but it didn't square me with the liquor vendors, and probably now I wouldn't the liquor vendors' vote when I ran for Parliament. Henry says he will apologize to the liquor vendors, so I am feeling a little better about it.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By ALICE MICHAELS

TO A YOUNGER SISTER
 Though you are as tall as I,
 Well-passed, sophisticated,
 To me, the years have passed you by,
 And time, I am sure, has waited
 For all your square, cool stenderness,
 Your homeliness and grace,
 I would not have you grow old
 Instead of still and loveliness.

Despite the ease with which you chat
 Of Freud and inhibition,
 I see you play the old cat
 And struggle with addition.

The flying years have passed you by,
 So that I view you slender
 A six-year madcap, just so high:
 So that I love you dearly.

With love that can embrace the you
 Of past and present hours,
 And see the child still shining through
 Your eyes like lovely flowers.

BEER LICENSE

To the Editor:—There has been something which has greatly troubled me for some time. It is the persistent reports that the liquor authorities have granted a license for a beer hall for the end of Esquimalt Spit.

THE LIBRARY

To the Editor:—Your article on Victoria's Public Library must have been of great interest to many book lovers outside the city who are debarred from one of the greatest assets of modern civilization. Never was the dog in the manger story so fully parodied as in this case.

One can understand that outlying districts should be expected to pay for the use of the library, but failing this, why penalize the individual reader? If a subscription from a municipality is legal, then a single subscription should be legal also, and it looks as though this privilege is refused simply to club the districts into paying. If this is the reason, it is nothing short of criminal. If there is some legal technicality, the sooner it is swept away the better.

Perhaps, if your influential paper took this matter up, even the stony hearts and stubborn minds of the powers that be might be moved to throw open their storehouse of mental pabulum—at a price.

LIFEBOAT ASSOCIATION

To the Editor:—This letter is number sixteen of the series which is being issued with the authority of the directors of the Vancouver Island Lifeboat Association. The last letter contained notes on the prevention of accidents to motor launches.

There is one item of a motor launch's equipment which is of great importance and this is the dinghy or small boat. A dinghy is really the private ferry between the launch and the nearest wharf or landing place. A proper dinghy is not built for speed but for carrying power and this, too, must be in proportion to its length, and it should be steady when being towed. In the case of an explosion of gas in the engine room of the launch when there is hardly time even to reach the life-belt, there always is the dinghy to keep the crew and guests afloat. Hence, it might be advisable to keep some special equipment lashed in the dinghy, say a bailer, a life-belt and a few fatbombs of small rope. From this it follows that whenever a party of guests is being taken on an outing in a launch a dinghy should always be taken, and it should be able to support (not carry) every person in the launch. For instance, when an accident takes place the best boatman should board the dinghy and ship the oars, thus taking charge and, with the two weakest people in the dinghy, could move it towards the nearest help or the shore and, at the same time it would support the rest of the people in the water by the life lines. Another point is, make the painter of the dinghy fast in such a manner that it can be easily and quickly loosened when necessary.

The next letter will contain notes on the different builds of shore boats and their freeboard.

Subscribers to the funds of the association will be glad to learn that the first practice for the training of the crew for Number One Boat Station was held off Clover Point on the evening of Monday, July 23, when three probationers were fitted under E. Jane, the coxswain in Victoria No. 1, and two were in Moss Rose under H. R. Fletcher, the secretary of the station. It is intended to carry on these practices until at least a pool of a dozen trained men is produced.

LIMITEDSun's Energy
Taps SubatomicSolar Contraction Ideas Are Ruled Out, Dr. Pearce Tells Astronomical School

Idea of Helmholtz and others that the sun's energy was maintained by contraction of its mass are now ruled out as it can now be shown that would only give it a life of 18,000,000 years from its beginnings down to today, Dr. J. A. Pearce of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory, said in his lecture at Victoria College to those taking the Astronomical Society's summer course.

A period of 18,000,000 years is too short a time to fulfill the demands of geology and biology which show that plants, animals and men have been evolving on the face of the earth under the rays of the sun for a much longer time than that, Dr. Pearce explained.

"The modern atomic theory makes it practically certain that the sun draws upon subatomic energy for its supply," he went on. "The sun, like all stars that shine, is converting its mass into energy, the rate varying with the star's age. At the present time the sun is radiating energy to a mass of 4,000,000 tons per second. In a year there are 31,000,000 seconds. A simple calculation shows that the sun will shine for at least two hundred and fifty million million years."

He told the story of stellar evolution, basing his lecture chiefly on the work of the Danish astronomer Hertzsprung and Russell of United States.

The reason why Vega shines like a blue diamond, why Antares is red like a ruby and why Capella glitters like a gem of golden hue, is that the stellar atmospheres are at different temperatures varying from 3,000 degrees for relatively cool red stars to 3,000 degrees for the yellow stars, 11,000 for the stars like Vega and 35,000 degrees for the massive class O stars," he said. "Dr. Beale of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory has determined temperatures of 75,000 degrees for some of his Wolf-Rayet stars, while the nuclei of planetary nebulae have surface temperatures as high as 150,000 degrees."

Contrasting sizes of stars, he told of giants such as Antares which were 600,000,000 miles in diameter and the dwarf Van Maanen star which is only 6,000 miles in diameter, half way between the earth's 8,000 miles and Mars 4,200 miles diameter. He told of white dwarf stars like the companion to Sirius which has a density 50,000 times that of water and represents a star near the end of its life.

Royd Brydon, president of the society, presided at the lecture and reviewed the three previous weeks' lectures. Miss Phoebe Riddell and Dr. Pearce directed the observation work on Sagittarius and other stars after the lecture using two three-inch refractor telescopes and one eight-inch reflector.

France Mobilises; Germany Declares War on Russia; British Fleet Is Made Ready

The British Fleet ... Mobilises

The ninth chapter of a skeletonized day-by-day record of fateful episodes directly preceding the World War.

By MORRIS GILBERT

It is August 1, 1914—and war! Swiftly, now, move tragic events that finally embroiled the whole of Europe in armed conflict such as the world never before has seen.

Paris, 4.45 a.m.—General mobilization ordered.

Berlin, 4 p.m.—General mobilization ordered. War declared on Russia.

London.—French ambassador pleads with Sir Edward Grey to reach a decision. He adds: "After the naval agreement between our two countries by which our fleet has been concentrated in the Mediterranean, to permit yours to concentrate in the North Sea, with the result that if the German fleet chose to destroy Calais, Boulogne and Cherbourg, we could not oppose the least resistance, you tell me that your government cannot decide to intervene. How can I send such a message to my government?"

Sir Edward observes that no written agreement exists and that the decision rests with parliament alone.

Winston Churchill, again acting on his own hook, gives orders for the British fleet to mobilize. "We had no legal authority to call out the naval reserves," he declares in his memoirs. The act was ratified next day by the cabinet.

To-morrow: "A simple scrap of paper."

and 1932, respectively. Sales of radios during the first quarter of 1934 were reported at 25,420 sets valued at $1,021,182 at factory prices; 11,839 sets were sold in Ontario, 5,217 in Quebec, 2,600 in British Columbia, 2,146 in the Maritimes, 1,003 in Saskatchewan and Alberta and 1,000 in Manitoba. Sales in Canada for the corresponding periods of earlier years were as follows: 21,614 in 1933, 62,476 in 1932 and 47,653 in 1931.

HALL OPENED AT BEAVER POINT

Salt Spring Residents Complimented on Fine Community Spirit

Salt Spring Island, Aug. 1.—The new community hall at Beaver Point, South Salt Spring, was formerly opened on Friday evening with a dance at which about 125 were present. The new building, on a rocky eminence at the side of the main road, is sixty feet long by thirty feet wide and has a hardwood floor. J. H. Monk, in declaring the hall open, congratulated the residents of Beaver Point on the fine community spirit which had made the building possible. It was only a year ago the project was first mooted. During the evening a handsome dinner service was drawn for and won by Mrs. Albert Smalls of Sooke Lake.

Mrs. George Percy, Squamish, and Mrs. Charles Clynne, Twana Island, have been visiting their sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Mollett of Burgoyne Valley.

The combined ladies' aid picnic and Sunday school outing of the United Church on Salt Spring Island was held last Wednesday at Furwood.

A programme of races for the boys and girls was run off under the superintendence of W. M. Mount, D. Winthrop and others. Ball driving was won by Mrs. B. Toynbee, and clothes pegging by Mrs. B. Krebs. The youngsters were served with ice cream donated by Mrs. J. Mount.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Stevens and family have left on a motor trip to Courtenay.

The senior Trail Rangers of Salt Spring Island will go into camp on Garvin C. Mount's estate, Mountain Park View, on Broadwell's Mountain, to-morrow for ten days. The boys will be in charge of Rev. and Mrs. Wm. Allan, Victoria, and Mr. and Mrs. Alexander, Saanich.

Dr. and Mrs. Alan Beech and family of Salmon Arm have left after visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Beech, Ganges Harbor.

Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Lawson were hosts at their home at Ganges on Friday afternoon at a garden party and luncheon in honor of Rev. G. W. Dean and Miss Dean, who are leaving the Island to make their home in Vancouver.

Badminton Club
Hosts at Picnic

Brentwood, Aug. 1.—More than 125 members and their friends attended the Brentwood Badminton Club's first annual mystery picnic at Fulford Harbor on Sunday. The picnic was held on the property of Mr. and Mrs. Jackson. During the afternoon a softball game was played, followed by sports. The committee in charge consisted of Mr. and Mrs. W. Watt, J. E. Staden, Mr. and Mrs. C. Douglas and Maurice Atkins.

The sports winners were as follows: Children under 12, handicap—1, Joan Creed; 2, Colin Murdoch.

Boys' race, handicap—1, Billy Murdoch; 2, Jim Murdoch.

Ladies' cracker race—1, Mrs. M. Atkins; 2, Mrs. J. J. Young.

Girls' cracker race—1, Barbara Garrard; 2, Peggy Garrard.

Boys' cracker race—1, Bobby Smith; 2, Jimmie Watt.

Young men's race—1, Ed Oakes; 2, Hubert Hanson.

Wheelbarrow race—1, Maurice Atkins and Pat Campbell; 2, Harold Andrews and Dick Creed.

Egg and spoon race—1, Mrs. J. Roberts; 2, Mrs. H. Andrews.

Needle and thread race—1, Barbara Garrard and Daryl Woodward; 2, Gladys Cook and Pat Campbell.

Men's race, over 50—1, R. J. Freeman; 2, J. E. Staden.

Executive race—1, Major Garrard; 2, Charlie Douglas.

Pitching horseshoes—Ladies: Mrs. A. J. Guy and Mrs. M. Atkins.

Pitching horseshoes—Men: R. J. Farrell and L. Thomson.

Treasure hunt—Mrs. Oakey and Mrs. H. Andrews.

Boy Drowned At Camp Six

Duncan, Aug. 1.—Corbin Alexander Sinclair, fourteen-year-old son of Mrs. Lucille Sinclair of Olympia, Wash., was drowned at Camp Six, Lake Cowichan, on Monday evening.

The boy, who was visiting his grandmother, Mrs. Peck, and uncle, Svend Thornburg, was missing at the time of the evening meal. It was not until morning that the body was found. The supposition was he had fallen off the houseboat and perished through inability to swim.

Chemainus

Chemainus, Aug. 1.—Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Charleworth were hosts at a picnic on Tent Island, on the occasion of their son Harold's thirteenth birthday Monday.

The Calvary Baptist Sunday school picnic was held at the lake camp with twenty-five adults and children present.

Fifteen members of Chemainus Y.P.S.U. were at the last meeting, when Pastor Ward gave an interesting talk on his impression of Keats Island Baptist camp.

Master Jack Crowder Smith, who has been the guest of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. C. Donahoe, for a week, has returned to Victoria.

Miss Isabel Cathcart has returned to Victoria after being the guest of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Cathcart.

Miss May Warren, Victoria, has been the guest here of her aunt, Mrs. C. Gynn.

Rev. and Mrs. E. C. Robathan are spending a vacation at Royston.

Edgar Dickson, after a holiday with Mr. and Mrs. Halhed, has returned to Victoria.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Donahoe were visitors to Victoria on Monday.

Miss Violet Wyllie has had as her guest Miss Lillian Ward of Victoria.

Statistics for June received in Victoria to-day show the production of automobiles in Canada totaled 13,000 units in June as compared with 20,161 units for May and 7,528 units for June, 1933. The total for June included 10,810 passenger cars and 2,190 trucks. Of the number made for sale in Canada, 6,711 were passenger cars and 1,717 were trucks, the balance in each case being intended for export. Actual imports during June numbered 350 passenger cars and 117 trucks, while the volume of exports was the greatest since March, 1930, and included 4,613 passenger cars and 1,285 trucks. The Canadian consumption of motor vehicles in June, as determined by adding the imports of 575 to the 6,636 made for sale in Canada, amounted to 7,211 units. During the first half of 1934 the aggregate output of cars and trucks in Canada was 52,004 units compared with 50,363 and 49,000 for the corresponding periods of 1933 and 1932, respectively.

FANCIFUL FABLES

TIRE PRICES
GO UP

FOR several months the prices of raw materials used in tires have been advancing steadily. These costs now have reached the point where tire manufacturers must increase their selling-prices.

THE advance in the prices of tires becomes effective on August 1st, 1934

THE improvements made in Goodyear tires--through the development of the new Pathfinder and the new G-3 all-weather tread--are so substantial, however, that Goodyear users will find their final costs actually lowered, because of the better service built into these new Goodyear tires.

Thousands At Arion Concert

Veteran Choir Delights About
3,000 Gathered at
Beacon Hill Park

Splendid Ensemble and Solo
Singing; Collection for Jubilee Hospital

Before an audience estimated at about 3,000, in ideal weather and a perfect setting, the Arion Club, Victoria's oldest male choir, delighted an enthusiastic and appreciative audience with its annual difference concert yesterday evening at the Beacon Hill Park.

Departing from its usual custom of holding the outdoor concert at the Parliament Buildings, the change in venue was evidently a popular one, as the audience proved one of the largest ever gathered for this annual event. Amplifiers especially installed for the occasion carried the singing most effectively to all sections of the vast crowd, whose appreciation of the various numbers was unmistakably expressed in generous and prolonged applause.

Under the skilful baton of Herbert Kent and with Mrs. C. C. Wain giving her usual sympathetic support at the piano, the choir excelled itself in a well-chosen and splendidly-prepared programme of popular variety, culled from its extensive repertoire.

Opening with Buller's "Winter Song," the programme included Sullivan's merry "No, Jolly Jenkin," in which Dr. R. P. Wain ably carried the role of soloist; the rollicking "Fugue in G Major" (Altknecht); the stirring "Archer's Marching Song" (Thayer); the ever-popular "Rolling Down to Rio" (German); the Brahms "Lullaby" and "Sylvia" (Oley Speake), both sung with tender feeling; Dudley Buck's "At Sea" and also his "In Vocal Combat." Bishop's "Mynheer Van Dutch," with bass solo finely sung by W. Tipper; Genoa's diverting "Italian Salad," another old favorite from the club's repertoire, in which Thomas Kelway's fine tenor voice was heard to advantage in the solo, and as a splendid finale the rousing "Soldiers' Chorus" from Gounod's Faust.

Throughout the programme the ensemble and solo singing was of the high standard associated with this veteran choir down through the years.

Following its usual custom in devoting the collections taken at these outdoor concerts to philanthropic undertakings, the proceeds yesterday evening were for the benefit of the Jubilee Hospital Women's Auxiliaries, uniformed nurses from the institution taking up the collection following a brief but telling appeal by R. P. Wain, chairman of the hospital board.

BLIND WOMAN IS REMARKABLE

Professor's Wife Travels Extensively, Writes Poems, Cooks, Sews; Musician

Canadian Press
New York, Aug. 1.—The remarkable clarity with which blind persons sometimes see the beauties of nature is shown in a collection of verse entitled "Fog Phantoms," the work of Alice Adkins Johnson, partly blind since childhood, who is the wife of Professor Douglas Johnson, geologist and geographer of Columbia University, with whom she has traveled extensively, seizing every opportunity to explore the world beyond her doors.

In a foreword to his wife's book, just published, Professor Johnson pays tribute to her happy philosophy of life. He writes:

"When a child she was deprived of the sense of sight, her valiant soul set for a handicapped body the task of doing all things others do so nearly as possible as they do them. Without aid of staff or companion she learned to traverse with swift and certain steps the streets of her home town, enjoying the stately elms, the green lawns, the picturesque houses as fully as could any other."

In joyous anticipation of making a new home for one who long had conquered enough of the art of cooking to provide alone in her kitchen, enough of the art of sewing to make much of her own trousseau, enough of the art of music to participate in public recitals and bring pleasure to the home she created; enough of typewriting to aid her husband in his studies; enough of foreign languages to read much in three of them and to converse as needed in two."

Mrs. Johnson does most of her writing on the typewriter, and on cross-country trips with her husband she takes his geological notes from dictation either by longhand or typing them direct as they drive along. Her travels have taken her into every continent except South America and the Antarctic.

Beats Off Bull With Safety Pin

Farmer's Wife Attacked By Inflamed Animal Uses
Novel Weapon

Canadian Press
Oneida, N.Y., Aug. 1.—A safety pin was used by a woman to ward off an infuriated bull which had knocked her down, and was attempting to trample her at a nearby farm yesterday.

Mrs. Josephine Wysocki, thirty-eight, screamed as the animal floundered. While her seventeen-year-old daughter, who was attracted to the scene, beat the bull with a broom, Mrs. Wysocki removed a safety pin from her dress and jabbed the animal until it retreated. It was shot later by state troopers.

FIRE CAUSED BY RATS

London, Ont., Aug. 1 (Canadian Press).—Rats gnawing at electric wires are believed responsible for flames that broke out in the attic of the medical school of the University of Western Ontario, causing damage estimated to run into several thousand dollars. Most of the damage was caused by heavy masses of water through the ceiling of the lower story, causing heavy damage to valuable instruments in the biochemical laboratories.

"Ratbane" is a Sanskrit word meaning "great evil."

LORD DUNCANNON IS FLYING NORTH

Edmonton, Aug. 1.—En route to Cameron Bay, Cochin China and other points, three airplanes carrying eighteen persons, took off from the Cooten Park airport here today. The first machine, piloted by C. H. "Punch" Dickins, superintendent of the Maritime division of the Canadian Airways, carried Lord Duncannon, son of the Earl of Duncannon, and others bound for the annual summer picnic at Great Bear Lake, August 4.

Carrying a judicial party bound for Cochin China to conduct the trial of Ah-It-It, a Chinese charged with the murder of another native, Arrawak, another machine also took off.

The third machine, carrying picknicking to Great Bear Lake, had a. Leigh at the controls.

ESTABLISHED NEW RECORD FOR WOMEN

Chic and cheerful either in street clothes or flying tugs is Miss Jean Batten, twenty-four-year-old New Zealand girl shown here in two pictures after she had flown from England to Australia in fifteen days. Her time constituted a new record for women over the hazardous route, for she clipped four whole days off the mark set by Amy Johnson. The kitten Miss Batten is holding was her mascot.

EARL WILL RUN HIS OWN HOTEL

One of Scotland's most historic and palatial mansions, Gosford, at Longlodge, on the Firth of Forth, for over 300 years the ancestral home of the Earl of Wemyss, is being converted into a hotel, and the earl will be "maitre d'hôtel."

Gosford, with its marble and alabaster hall, its statuary and priceless pictures, will be the most magnificent hotel in Britain, and for about forty-five dollars a week guests will be able to stay at the hotel. This sum will include everything.

One of its principal features is the huge marble hall and staircase running through the upper stories and surrounded by a great gallery. Actually they are half the purchase made jointly by one of Lord Wemyss's ancestors and a previous Lord Lansdowne.

Half the marbles went to Lansdowne House in London and the other half to Gosford.

For generations the Wemyss family have been art collectors, and the house is filled with treasures bought by them.

There are pictures of every school—early Italian, primitives, works of the great Florentine and Venetian masters.

Dutch Goat Has Very Expensive Appetite

Into the Bank of Netherlands went a farmer from a small Dutch village carrying the stomach of a recently killed goat. The animal had an expensive appetite for in the stomach were 200 guilders (about $100) in banknotes. The farmer had laid his vest, containing the money, on the grass, never giving a thought to his neighbor's goat, which was grazing nearby. The animal, however, worked the money out of the vest and was cheerfully chewing on the last banknote when the farmer saw what was happening. With the approval of its owner, the farmer had a butcher kill the goat and cut out its stomach. An official of the bank succeeded in deciphering the numbers of the notes and the farmer received new money.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRD

THOUGHTLESS MOTHER DISTURBS NEIGHBORHOOD

Sometime ago I discussed the subject of inconsiderate friends who bothered young mothers at their most crowded hours during the day. I received numerous letters from readers who wanted to say how often they had been bothered just that way.

One reader thought I might enlarge the subject to include inconsiderate mothers! She had one in mind especially who spent her day in bed with her baby and then let the wailing infant cry while tired neighbors gnashed their teeth. This situation suggests not only lack of consideration but a schedule very much awry, one which allows for all day sleeping and all night wakefulness. The infant needs turning about.

IGNORANT SCREAMS

Another type of inconsiderateness is the parent who puts her young hopeful out of doors in a playpen and then goes blithely about her work, deaf to the child's screams, which may continue for hours, uninterrupted and unsoothed. Children may fuss for a short time when put into a playpen, but no one can argue convincingly that a child learns to like a playpen until he is happy in it. If the mother devoted a little time to finding some amusement in the playpen to which the baby would joyfully apply himself, she would be considerate of the child's welfare and also that of the suffering and helpless neighbors.

OTHER EXAMPLES

What of the parent who allows a restless child to crawl all over, demand attention and generally annoy fellow travelers who can't escape and don't want to seem "mean"? Their good nature may result in acquiring a charge for the duration of the journey. What about the parent who bundles up her child repeatedly and dumps him on a friend who has come expressing a willingness to be helpful if she can? What about the parent who speaks her child with a bad cold while right and hearing of the neighbors, whose nerves are assaulted at this senseless brutality?

Such parents may not be vicious or mean, but they lack imaginative realization of the other fellow's feelings. Inconsiderateness is usually just thoughtlessness, but thoughtlessness which can effectively slaughter the sheep, the future, the time, and the emotions of others is gross, whether it is conscious meanness or not.

DONNA of the BIG TOP

By BEULAH POYNTER

Hours later she sat up with a start. The train was standing still. Lights were blazing and outside the window she could see porters running back and forth with luggage, some pushing trucks loaded with suitcases or trunks.

She jumped up, pushed her hat into place, pulled on her coat and stepped on her traveling bag. This was the place where she was to leave the train and catch another train to Lebanon.

The car was deserted and that seemed strange. Perhaps Con had slipped out on the platform for a breath of air. Donna ran down the aisle, afraid the porter might start before she could get off. A brakeman stood in the little vestibule. He smiled and said, "Getting off here?"

"Yes," she answered, and that seemed strange. Perhaps Con had slipped out on the platform for a breath of air. Donna ran down the aisle, afraid the porter might start before she could get off. A brakeman stood in the little vestibule. He smiled and said, "Getting off here?"

"Yes," she answered, and that seemed strange. Perhaps Con had slipped out on the platform for a breath of air. Donna ran down the aisle, afraid the porter might start before she could get off. A brakeman stood in the little vestibule. He smiled and said, "Getting off here?"

CHAPTER XLV

It was Minnie who discovered that Donna was gone. Miss Perkins, the nurse, who considered it a blessing that Amos Sidal was at rest at last, spoke sharply to the servant girl and hustled her into the kitchen to get supper. Whether any one else in the family wanted food or not, the nurse felt the need of it.

Sniffing audibly, Minnie set about preparing the meal. She was not to come down to help. Minnie was probably preoccupied by grief. Minnie was the table, placed the food upon it, and called Miss Perkins.

The nurse insisted that Bill must eat something too.

"Ask Mrs. Sidal to come down, Minnie," she added. "Tell her I said she must have some food. She hasn't let herself get ill."

Rubbing her red eyes with a handkerchief, Minnie mounted the stairs. The sniffling was gone when she dashed back into the dining-room. "She's gone!" Minnie cried excitedly. "After Sidal's gone!"

"Gone?" Bill muttered.

"Maybe she's outside," the nurse suggested.

"No, Ma'am. Her traveling bag's gone and there are no toilet things on the dresser! There's a big trunk in the hall with her name on it. Oh, my Lordie!" Minnie began to wring her hands, as if Donna's disappearance affected her personally.

Bill pushed back his chair and strode from the room. Only too evident were the indications of his wife's departure. Bureau drawers and clothes hangers were empty. The huge wardrobe trunk with the black letters, "Madeline Gabriel," was still there, but Donna was not in it. She had gone without a word to him. If he needed further proof that Con David had told the truth this time, Bill searched for some farewell message but there was none. Even before Grandfather's funeral Madeline had left the house and she was a woman who had been a cheat from the day he had first met her?

Why had she married him? Had she separated from the animal trainer and been afraid a divorce would have been frowned upon by Grandfather? Or was she and David divorced, so that she was legally Bill's wife? No—sentimental. She was gone. Let her stay where she was!

But he could not dismiss the telegram. The uncertainty, the feeling that perhaps she was in trouble, that she was a streak of stubbornness in Bill's nature, however, that would not let him do what his heart prompted.

The day passed with no answer sent. And another day passed. Then came the funeral. Services were held at home and, in spite of the distance from town, many were present. Neighbors who had known Amos Sidal all his life and loved him. Many drove through curiosity to learn, if possible, why young Mrs. Sidal had gone away. Others to see how Bill was taking the situation. There was some who had known Donna casually and liked her, who refused to believe that she had gone away with another man.

There was a bitter ordeal for Bill. The sight of Mrs. Sidal in rusty black, sobbing softly, was almost too much for him. He would have liked to fling her out of the house but he could not do that. She had lived in the Sidal home for five years and was supposed to be a close friend.

He managed to avoid her and ignored the condolences she offered. Joe Hoskins, the lawyer, a lifelong acquaintance of Grandfather Sidal, rode to the cemetery in the car with Minnie and Miss Perkins as his escorts.

Little was said on the dismal trip, but on the way home again the attorney asked, "Shall I come out your place to see you or will you come in to the office?"

"It doesn't matter," Bill answered gloomily. "The property all goes to Grandfather's estate. I'll have to get in touch with her."

Hoskins coughed and adjusted his spectacles. "No," he said. "It doesn't. Your Grandfather didn't leave Madeline a cent."

"What?"

"The farm and everything else is yours, Bill, unless—well, he did leave a letter addressed to the two of you, but I have an idea that hasn't anything to do with the property."

"But I don't understand! I always thought—"

"I reckon he figured that, as you were man and wife, it didn't make any difference who had the property, but maybe it was for the man and maybe it was for the woman."

"But this will can't stand. It's wrong! Let's read it at once, Mr. Hoskins. There must be some mistake."

"Just so you say, Bill, but there's no mistake. The will will have to stand."

CHAPTER XLVI

Donna had waited so long for Bill's telegram, asking over and over again if a message had come for her, that when at last it was put in her hand she was afraid the printed words were a deception.

"There were only five words. 'Come home first train, Bill!'"

She had unpacked only a few things from her traveling bag. In the trunk, then, fifteen minutes she had them all back, had snapped on the lock, paid her bill and checked out of the hotel. It made little difference to Donna whether she had an hour or five minutes to wait at the station for a train. Once her ticket was in her purse, she would feel that she was on her way back to Bill.

On the long trip she rehearsed over and over in her mind how she would tell him her story—how she had deceived him about the real Madeline's death and the purpose of her visit to Lebanon. Of one thing only was she positive. Bill had not believed that she had eloped with Con. He might have thought she had been married to Con, but never that she had run away with him.

Why had he waited so long to send for her? It must have been on account of the will! Bill had read the will and knew that the property was hers now.

EVENING CAPE NEWEST THING

Russian Influence Seen in Sumptuous Wraps Worn in Hollywood

Hollywood, Aug. 1.—The movie ladies are saying farewell to evening coats. The stars who establish the trend in cinema styles say the cape is the thing to-day.

Outstanding in smartness and simplicity is one of the newer type of evening wrap worn by Gertrude Michael, over a gown of white satin. The combination of Russian sable and white satin alone announces that Hollywood's new trend is toward the height in subtle richness, which leads the evening mode away from glitter and tinsel.

It should have a distinctly Russian or Cossack silhouette, say the designers and it should be long and sumptuous.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

SANDWICHES TO TAKE ON PICNIC AND HOW TO PREPARE THEM

By MARY E. DAGE

Picnics are often badly balanced as far as food is concerned because of the fillings which are too rich in protein and not rich enough in vitamins.

Meat and cheese sandwiches ordinarily carry better than other varieties, but if vegetable sandwiches are carefully made and packed they, too, may be kept for several hours in good condition.

When a salad dressing is used in sandwiches it should be a thick dressing that will not separate and run when touched with vegetable juice. An oil dressing or true mayonnaise will not stand up in sandwiches for any length of time, so a cooked dressing of custard-like consistency is better. An oil dressing, however, is delicious for sandwiches that are to be used for porch and lawn meals.

WHEN DRESSING IS NEEDED

Letting make a dressing, but many other vegetables are better without it. If a dressing is used with other vegetables, include a lettuce layer under the dressing to prevent the bread from absorbing the dressing.

Onion sandwiches certainly need no dressing. Peel and slice onions and let stand in cold salt water to cover for one hour. One teaspoon salt to one medium sized onion is a good proportion to use. Drain and chop very fine. Mix between thin slices of bread and butter.

Pinely minced cabbage, celery and carrot make a good combination for vegetable sandwiches. These sandwiches will endure several hours of packing and letting and heat and still be palatable.

A thin coating of butter should be spread on one side of each slice of bread. Butter not only materially increases the food value of the sandwich, but also aids in preventing the bread from absorbing the filling.

If you use a meat filling for sandwiches, it is a good plan to add lettuce. The lettuce furnishes greenness and bulk. Trim the lettuce to fit the bread and there will be no unappetizing wilted edges to wangle into the mouth.

To keep flavors from getting mixed up, wrap each kind of sandwich separately, and, if possible, each sandwich "Use heavy waxed paper which excludes air."

TO-MORROW'S MENU

Breakfast—Baked apples, cereal, cream, broiled liver sausage, toast, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Rice ring with creamed salmon, lettuce with French dressing, oatmeal cookies, sliced bananas and raspberries, milk, tea.

Dinner—Pineapple juice cocktail, fried spring chicken with milk gravy, mashed potatoes, sliced okra and tomatoes, stuffed celery salad, peach mousse, milk, coffee.

ROYAL RAINMENT

That the Prince of Wales is not the only member of the British royal family who knows "what the well-dressed man will wear" was demonstrated by his father when the King appeared in the smart turnout shown above. The occasion was the formal opening of a new show at Manx, England.

New Westminster Royals Pass From Dominion Soccer Series

THE SPORTS MIRROR

RECENT injury of Earl Combs, brilliant outfielder of the New York Yankees in the American Baseball League, brings to mind just what a great ball player the veteran from Kentucky has been. He has been a fighter in baseball of the happy warrior type. Always laughing, he has a major league batting average of .287 for his career up to the start of this season, and even the opposing pitchers don't dislike him. He was as fast as a streak when he went up to the Yankee from Louisville in 1924, and they loved him into the New York outfield between Babe Ruth and Bob Meusel. As time went on, Combs had to do a lot of running in the outer garden. Cobb spoke to him about that one day. There had been some bantam during batting practice. Cobb paid his respects to various members of the Yankees and finally shouted over at Combs in the Yankee dugout:

"As for you, Combs, you're crazy! Those two big guys just stand out there and point out the ball so that you can go after it. In another season you'll have your legs worn off clear up to the knees."

It wasn't quite that bad. Ty was taking a shot at the Babe, who was really a fine outfielder before he showed up. And Ty was also taking a shot at Bob Meusel, who was fast enough coming in on a ball—and on the bases—but he bailed like a thief to go back for a ball. But day after day Earl was in there, roving in all directions and handling down drives that looked dangerous when they started. He was always a hard man to fool at the plate and he was so fast that even a grounder from his own team had to be handled swiftly to nail him at first.

He was with the Yankees when the crew turned a rife rowdy under the late Miller Huggins and the team sank to the depths. But Combs was not one of the offenders. He never drank. He never gambled. He went to bed shortly after sundown and was up with the well-known lark. But even to his rostering teammates, Earl never showed his vicious side. He still thought that the Kentucky Colonel was a great fellow.

Another thing about Earl was the way he scouted the hitters on opposing clubs. When batting practice is on, the pitchers of the side club often in company with the coaching staff, watch the hitters are hitting and keep up a running fire of comment and comparison. Most of the ball players join in at first Combs would never miss a swing. It was just one more thing that he could do to help his club win and he went in for it very seriously. He was a custom to sit on the steps of the dugout, leaning out toward the diamond with his chin resting on his hand and his eyes on the batter as he waited away. He knew when a man they had tagged as a highball hitter was getting to be a lowball hitter through the fact that he had been seeing so many low balls. He reported that player X, who couldn't hit a curve was "planking" on the first trip was now "pounding" the curve with vim and vigor.

In other words, he was a great man for the club and a great fellow on or off the field. He averaged 350 for his batting in four world's series. He was one of the few Yankees who knew how to bowl. He was a stronger, he would have been rated with the all-stars of any baseball era. But his arm never was much and the runner he sometimes took advantage of this fact. He more than made up for it in other ways and, on the whole, his value to a club was appreciated by the fans. But not to the extent that it was appreciated by the managers. Miller Huggins had two personal favorites: Lou Gehrig and Earl Combs.

Joe McCarthy knew all about Earl before he came to town to take charge of the Yankees. Joe practically raised him in Louisville and felt as Huggins did about him. How could any one feel otherwise? Earl was a paragon without being a pain in the neck and that's quite an accomplishment.

So it seems hard lines that he had to be the one to suffer a serious accident in St. Louis, but he was living right up to his code when it happened. He was giving everything he had in an effort to win a ball game for his team.

Australian sportsmen are "up in arms" against what is construed here as a United States monopoly on ring championships. Maxie Rosenbloom, holder of the late heavyweight title, is the chief target for this attack, inasmuch as he virtually has refused a $10,000 offer to defend the title in Melbourne against Ambrose Palmer.

According to reports circulating "down under," Rosenbloom has been advised by the United States boxing board that he is likely to lose the decision to Palmer, and as an alibi for his action, draws the inference that the crown may be "taken" in Australia.

Chocolate Winner In Comeback Bout

New York, Aug. 1.—Kid Chocolate, former featherweight champion, moved forward on the comeback trail yesterday evening by whipping Buster Brown, Baltimore, decisively in an eight-round bout fought in the ring at the Coney Island Velodrome. Chocolate, who weighed 132 pounds, Brown 140½.

Have Best of Deciding Match But Are Beaten 1 to 0 By Prince Albert

Royals Pass Up Chances Galore

Saskatoon, Aug. 1.—Moving back over the trail that carried them into the Dominion soccer finals last year, Prince Albert City Reds to-day entrained for Winnipeg and a place in the final bracket for the championship of western Canada.

The northerners eliminated New Westminster Royals here yesterday evening 1 to 0 in the third game of a series to decide advancement in the play-downs for the Dominion Football Association championship. The British Columbia champions won the first match 2 to 1 and the Saskatchewan titlists the second game 2 to 0 in the second game. The only goal of the game yesterday evening came thirty minutes after the start of the second half.

Winnipeg United, Manitoba representative, provided opposition for the Red shirts in the western final at Winnipeg. The first game is scheduled for to-morrow night. The second will be played Saturday and the third on Monday. The winner will meet Verdun Park, Montreal, eastern champions, in the Dominion classic, dates for which remain to be set.

ROYALS HAVE EDGE.—Royals showed improved form as they opened their attack against the Reds yesterday evening, but lacked the scoring punch that carried them to victory over Pacific Coast teams and the Alberta champions. At times they outplayed Prince Albert, but failed to capitalize on scoring opportunities.

Once again Gillespie was the star for Prince Albert. He kicked well in face of a bad cross wind and broke up repeated attacks by the Royals' front line. He was held up by his halves, especially by Dundar, left half, who was a source of worry to invading forwards all night. Mills in goal was little to it in the first half. Royals warned to a well-calculated attack time after time, but could not press home their advantage and twice did the Prince Albert forwards, who throughout the game showed few glimpses of good football, threaten.

The first half ended with no score, after Prince Albert backs had had a busy and exciting forty-five minutes.

BEDS IMPROVE.—After the resumption Prince Albert improved, an injury to Spencer, Royals' inside left, disappointing the coast team, and their forwards got together better, but they seemed to have little idea of getting goals while the Royals were held up by the sturdy defense of Gillespie and Brady.

Then came the break. McMillan secured the ball on the right wing, and he took it to the goal, who all night had been safe on the few he had been called upon to handle, failed to gather up and in the resulting scramble, Dundar, Reds' centre half, dashed in to put the sphere in the net.

The Prince Albert goal was not too badly endangered in the second half, and Royals were unable to get near goal in the last ten minutes, while Reds' defenders kicked into touch at every opportunity.

For New Westminster, Turner, as inside right, was best, ably supported by Delaney and McKinnon. Loss of the first upset by eliminating Barona Maud Levi, New York, ranked seventh nationally, in straight sets, 6-2, 6-4, and Gracey, Wheeler, Santa Monica youngster, defeated Mac Curovort, Wichita, Kansas, second number eight, 2-6, 6-4, 6-1.

RAIN SPOILS TENNIS PLAY

Only Eight Matches Run Off Yesterday in B.C. Clay Court Championships

Vancouver, Aug. 1.—British Columbia clay court tennis championships, was curtailed by rain yesterday, with the result that only eight matches were run off.

Three youthful Californians and a trio of Vancouver entrants won through first round matches in the six matches in the men's singles yesterday.

Bob Harmon, Berkeley, defeated Jim Bardsley, former Vancouver publicist, 6-1, 6-2. Harper Masie, another Berkeley product, and runner-up to Dan Roberts in the western Canada junior boys' grass court final last week, defeated B. Fisher, Vancouver, 6-3, 6-3, and Jack Creamer, Pasadena, downed Bill Davis, Vancouver, 6-0, 3-7, 6-4.

Misses Phyllis White and May Moncrief, Vancouver, defeated Minnie Ramis and Joyce, also Vancouver, 6-0, 6-0, in the only women's doubles match.

Mrs. Lorna Ross and H. Brown, Vancouver, won a first round encounter in the mixed doubles with Betty Passerini and M. Murray, 6-3, 3-4, 5-6.

GREENKEEPERS' GOLF ARRANGED

Annual Championship Tournament at Macaulay Point Club on September 25

Arrangements have been made to hold the seventh annual Victoria greenkeepers' golf tournament at the Macaulay Point Club on Tuesday, September 25. The competition, as in former years, will be thirty-six holes for the greenkeepers' championship and handicap championship. It is expected that J. H. Hildell, present holder of both titles, will be given stiff opposition and will have to be in top form to repeat.

The interclub shield will also be played for during the day. It was won last year by the greenkeepers from Oak Bay and is competed for by teams from the various clubs.

Further particulars of the tournament, and the banquet and concert that will follow, will be given in the press at a later date.

Youngsters Star In Tennis Play

East Hampton, N.Y., Aug. 1.—The younger generation of tennis stars took over the spotlight for a couple of hours yesterday as two seeded youngsters, J. H. Hildell and J. H. Hildell, present holder of the opening round of the invitation Maudstone women's tennis tournament.

Paul Futton, Chicago girl, turned in the first upset by eliminating Barona Maud Levi, New York, ranked seventh nationally, in straight sets, 6-2, 6-4, and Gracey, Wheeler, Santa Monica youngster, defeated Mac Curovort, Wichita, Kansas, second number eight, 2-6, 6-4, 6-1.

Defeating Fred Harman in the final by a score of 21 to 19, Frank Holmes, runner-up in this year's Peace Cup, tournament, won the Burnside Cup, Burnside Lawn Bowling Club handicap singles trophy.

In an evenly contested match, Harman, who gave Holmes three shots, had an uphill fight, and both players gave a fine exhibition.

The usual evening "lights" game for men and women of any local club will be played to-morrow evening.

There will be no play on the Burnside greens next week except that arranged by the tournament committee for the playing of the Greater Victoria lawn bowling tournament.

British Critics Favor Canadian Flash to Take Events In British Empire Sports, Opening Saturday at London; Prince of Wales Host To Athletes

Canadian Press
London, Aug. 1.—England wondered to-day if the most famous schoolboy sprinter in the world, four-headed Bert Pearson, Hamilton, Ont., was as far away from form as his Canadian trials would indicate. British critics, who follow the form charts closely, were inclined to call the Canadian Olympian the favorite for the British Empire Games sprints.

Yesterday the athletes here for the games converged on St. James Palace where they were received by the Prince of Wales.

The conqueror of United States 440-yard sprint, victor over Jesse Owens, America's number one dashman outdoors, Pearson got the call to-day in England despite the fact he was defeated in the Canadian trials by Ian Bailey, Christie, star Toronto dashman.

Among Pearson's foes are an Indian, R. A. Vermeire, who has been credited with running 100 yards in 9.6 seconds; H. S. Yates, Australia, who has been caught in 9.8 seconds; Bob Murdoch, Scotland; Bill Rangle, veteran English sprinter, and F. A. W. Sweeney, England, are others who are considered real threats to Pearson.

SOUTH AFRICAN THREAT
If there is any real foreign rival to Pearson, expected to be regaining his real form, it will be W. R. Then Nissen, South Africa, according to some critics.

With the games open here Saturday, Canada will receive a real test of speed. Men's 100-yard dash will be decided and heats of the women's century will be decided.

Audrey Dearnley, tall Hamilton girl who has impressed critics here with her easy style, stood out as Canada's best prospect.

Harry Hart, giant South African who copied two titles at the Hamilton games four years ago, was favored to repeat his record throw with his Bob Waters, Vancouver, was one of several who may detract the popular titlist.

As observers lined up the strength of the teams and track and field stars, swimmers, boxers, wrestlers and cyclists prepared for a final day of hard preparatory work, the opinion prevailed that Canada's track forces would be hard to beat. Canada was expected to do well in the men's jumps and perhaps sweep women's events.

IRISH FREE STATE HUSTLES, led by the great hammer throwing king, Dr. Patrick O'Callaghan, and South Africa, Australia, and Canada, were heavily backed to have the weight events pretty much to themselves.

O'Callaghan, Olympic champion and world record-holder in the hammer, was expected to be the favorite to throw the hammer better than 175 feet.

CANADIAN GIRLS' BILL
Canada's sensational girl squad, including at least a half-dozen potential record breakers, was shaken by two minor ructions of illness yesterday, but neither was expected to develop into anything serious.

WIMBLEDON THROUGH, similar to that which spread among tennis players at the recent Wimbledon championships and attacked Australia's cricket team, was cleared up quickly and Miss Cameron missed only a day's training. The disease was most common among South African girls.

A last attack of influenza did not keep Rosy Atkins, erstwhile Toronto hurdler, from the track. Mrs. Atkins, joint holder with Betty Taylor, Hamilton, of the Canadian eighty-meter record, continued light training yesterday morning despite a headache.

Those taking the trip include Constable Dave Taylor and Constable F. Drysdale of the First Battalion Canadian Scottish Regiment, and Q.M.S. A. E. Evans, Q.M.S. W. McKay and Corporal Nicholson of the Garrison Rifle Association.

TILlicums TO OPPOSE SON

Senior Baseball League Game To-night; Port Angeles Here Saturday

After taking the Pacific Coast into camp 6 to 5 on Monday evening the Tillicums will attempt to make it two victories in a row to-night, when they oppose the Sons of Canada in a Seattle Baseball League game, at the Athletic Park. Play will start 6.15 o'clock.

Lloyd Jones, show-paw, is the logical choice for most of the Tillicums. Lloyd Cann or Tom Musgrave will hurt for the Sons. On Saturday a combined Son of Canada-Tillicums team will play Port Angeles in two exhibitions at the Park. The afternoon game starts at 2.30 o'clock and the evening engagement at 6.15 o'clock.

Last year the Olympic Stadium renovation has been carried on. The two alleys on the second floor have been entirely resurfaced and first floor boards have been replaced in such a way that they are as good as new. The renovation has been carried on.

OPEN ALLEYS HERE TO-DAY

Pari-mutuel Betting on Caliente Golf Tourney

Agua Caliente, Mexico, Aug. 1.—Pari-mutuel wagering on golf will be introduced for the first time in the annual Agua Caliente championship here January 31 to February 5, officials of the $5,000 open tournament announced to-day.

Ninety per cent of the money wagered will go to winning ticket holders, who may, as on horse racing, bet to win, place or show, or across the board on any competitor in the field. The remaining ten per cent goes to the three players who turn in the lowest eighteen-hole cards of the day, on the basis of five, three and two per cent. This will not be taken on the final seventy-two-hole results.

Canadian Open Golf Draws Large Entry

Pittsburgh, Aug. 1.—Led by the Canadian amateur champion, twenty-year-old Albert (Scotty) Campbell, Seattle, sixty-four qualifiers began match play to-day in the United States public links tournament. The match play will continue until the final Saturday.

Campbell was the medal yesterday with a total of 144 for the difficult thirty-six holes. John Ross, Los Angeles, was runner-up with 145.

The Australian considered cutting short an European exhibition tour to attempt a repeat performance and filed his entry, but Royal Canadian Golf Association officials announced to-day he would not be present.

Even without the champion the field will be the strongest that has ever gone in hunt of the third ranking golf title in the world. Among the 124 whose pairings for Thursday and Friday were announced to-day were top stars of the game in the United States and Canada.

The eighty-two pairs play eighteen holes to-morrow and Friday, the low sixty going into the final thirty-six holes Saturday.

VANCOUVER IN CRICKET WIN

Eccles Leads Team to Victory Over Cowichan in Duncan Cricket Week Match

Duncan, Aug. 1.—A fine bowling performance by the team captain, Eccles, who took six wickets for twenty-seven runs, and good batting stands by A. Smith and A. Salt, who put up sixty-one and sixty-three, respectively, gave Eccles' Vancouver eleven a victory over Cowichan in yesterday's play in the Duncan cricket week.

Cowichan was dismissed for eighty-three runs in the first innings and eighty-seven in the second. The main team put on 200 runs for eight wickets declared.

PRUSOFF IN LAST EIGHT

Seattle Tennis Star Meets Gilbert Hall in Eastern Tournament

Southampton, N.Y., Aug. 1.—Only one of the seeded favorites fell by the wayside just as the field reached the quarter-final round in the forty-fourth annual Meadowbrook invitation tennis tournament.

J. Gilbert Hall, South Orange, N.J., accounted for the major upset as he eliminated Gregory B. Mangin, former indoor champion, and second seeded player, 6-3, 6-3. Hall was hitting with surprising power and accuracy and kept Mangin on the defensive throughout.

Hall was to meet Henry Prusoff, Seattle, in the quarter-finals to-day, Prusoff, playing steady tennis, defeated Dwight F. Davis Jr., son of the donor of the Davis Cup, 6-3, 6-4.

Superior standouts in the high court gave eighteen-year-old Frankie Parker, Lawrenceville School student, a hard-fought 7-6, 6-4 victory over Donald Budge, Oakland, Calif., top ranked junior.

Leading Golfers of the Continent Will Open Play To-morrow for National Crown at Toronto; Ken Black, Vancouver Amateur Ace, Among Field

Toronto, Aug. 1.—Joe Kirkwood, the trick-shot wizard who won his first major title in the Canadian open golf championship last year, will not defend his crown in the tournament opening at the Lakeside Golf Club here to-morrow.

The Australian considered cutting short an European exhibition tour to attempt a repeat performance and filed his entry, but Royal Canadian Golf Association officials announced to-day he would not be present.

Even without the champion the field will be the strongest that has ever gone in hunt of the third ranking golf title in the world. Among the 124 whose pairings for Thursday and Friday were announced to-day were top stars of the game in the United States and Canada.

The eighty-two pairs play eighteen holes to-morrow and Friday, the low sixty going into the final thirty-six holes Saturday.

Practically all the leading professional golfers in the United States, with the possible exception of Paul Runyan, will be on hand, following the United States P.O.A. at Seattle.

New York Yankees Back On Top Again

Take Two Games From Boston to Replace Detroit Tigers at Head of American Baseball League; Gehrig Hits Two Homers; Chicago Gains on Giants in National

Like a couple of wild-eyed kids on a merry-go-round, New York Yankees and Detroit Tigers whirled dizzily around to-day, still snatching for the American Baseball League brass ring, and this time the Yanks had a finger on it.

In one full month of July, just closed, the Yankees and Tigers have been bounding in and out of first place like the famous Mr. Flanagan. Three times since July the Tigers were on top and four times the Yankees. The Yanks started the month in front and just did manage to finish there.

With such fluctuating success as George Herman Rubeen, Lou Gehrig and Vernon Gomes figuring largely in the proceedings, the Yanks wiggled back yesterday before the month closed on them, by winning two games from Boston Red Sox, 11 to 3 and 3 to 1, as the Tigers were dividing a double header with Cleveland Indians.

TWO HOME RUNS
After Gehrig had hit two home runs in the first game onslaught to boost his season total to thirty-two while Gomes was pitching marvellous three-hits before the month closed.

The Yanks started the month in front and just did manage to finish there. With such fluctuating success as George Herman Rubeen, Lou Gehrig and Vernon Gomes figuring largely in the proceedings, the Yanks wiggled back yesterday before the month closed on them, by winning two games from Boston Red Sox, 11 to 3 and 3 to 1, as the Tigers were dividing a double header with Cleveland Indians.

Sam Jones, the ancient one, neatly pitched the Chicago White Sox to a 5 to 3 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals in a dual with George Blasholder, and the Philadelphia Athletics took another fall out of the tumbling Washington Senators, 5 to 2, as Ed Coleman hit his tenth home run with two on. Joe Cronin, Senators' manager, had to retire after Pinky Higgins' grounder hit him in the face.

With the New York Giants bowing 4 to 1 before the Braves in Boston due to the combination of Buck Bell's pitching and Pinky Whitney's home run, the Cubs pulled up within two and a half games of the league

Joe Hauser Has Fractured Arm

Kansas City, Aug. 1.—Discovery of a fracture in the right arm of Joe Hauser yesterday made it certain the Minneapolis Millers' home run slugger will see no more action in the American Association this season.

Hauser fractured a kneecap Sunday in a game with Kansas City and will have to undergo an operation within a week. He fell while rounding third base and complained of pain in his right arm. Yesterday further examination disclosed the fracture.

Leaders: Curt Davis pitched the Phillies to a 4 to 2 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers, his fifteenth of the season, and the Pittsburgh Pirates got exactly nowhere with the Cincinnati Reds, winning the second game 7 to 5 in eleven innings after losing the first 6 to 4.

The Braves' Harder broke Fred Fitzsimmons' streak of nine straight victories.

TIE FOR LEAD IN STATE GOLF

Jimmy Johnson and Emory Zimmerman Play Off for Washington Open

Seattle, Aug. 1.—In a dizzy breath-taking last-hole finish, Jimmy Johnson, professional at the Allenmore Golf Club, Tacoma, and Emory Zimmerman, professional at the Alderwood Golf Club, Portland, for the Washington State open golf championship yesterday, to send the two sharpshooters into an eighteen-hole play-off to-day.

Two strokes behind the Portlander as he teed off at the last hole, Johnson laid out a 250-yard drive, spanked a spoon eight feet from the cup, and boldly ran down the lying eagle before a cheering gallery, to give him a seventy-two-hole total of 290, the same card previously posted by Zimmerman. In his four rounds over the Ingleswood course, Johnson scored 73, 73, 74, 74. Zimmerman tallied 73, 70, 78, 71.

CHRISTIAN SLIPS
While the leaders were putting on their whirlwind finishing performance, Neil Christian, Yakima professional and front runner in the meet from the start, cracked badly to wind up with 292 even par, and third place money. Christian's blow-up was tragic. Starting the last nine strokes ahead of the field, the former Portland professional, who three times had won the open championship, dropped strokes to par at the sixty-fourth and sixty-fifth holes when he drove into the rough and three-putted, and then took a wild six at the sixty-sixth, chipping back and forth over the green three times before he could get on.

Christian scored 69, 73, 74, 76. ANOTHER UPSET
Another upset occurred in the amateur division when Harry Given, Seattle, noosed out Bud Ward, Olympia, in the last nine. Given finished with 293 for fourth place, while Ward was

Claran Registers Victory In Tough Goodwood Stakes

Goodwood Park, Eng., Aug. 1.—The five-year-old Claran, owned by H. C. Sutton, won the Goodwood Stakes to-day from a field of twelve over a grueling two miles and three furlongs. Claran finished a length and a half ahead of Son of Mint, Jose Brown's seven-year-old campaigner. White Plains, Sir Woodman Burbridge's entry, was third, a short head behind Son of Mint.

Claran went to the post a lukewarm favorite, being quoted at 6 to 1 in the betting. Son of Mint was quoted at 7 to 1 and White Plains at 100 to 1.

one stroke behind in fifth, with 294. The Olympia had held a three-stroke lead over Given as they started home on the final nine holes, but he began hooking his irons to place himself in much trouble.

Frank Rodia, Seattle, gained fourth place professional money with 296. Walter Pursey, Seattle, was next with 299, and Ted Longworth, Portland, defending champion, tied Freddy Wood, British Columbia, claiming the Victoria B.C. had seventy-two-hole scores of 157-160-317, and B. Dickinson, Vancouver, B.C., 157-164-321.

Invite Locals to B.C. Canoe Meet
The Vancouver Canoe Club has issued an invitation to local canoe teams to compete for the British Columbia fifteen-mile championship for doubles, which is to be held at Vancouver, August 18. The start of the race will be from English Bay at 11 o'clock in the morning, with the finish at the Bowen Island causeway.

The race is being sponsored by the Vancouver Canoe Club and trophies for the event have been donated by the Union Steamship Company. Entries already received include those of Harry Russell and Bob Tepperton, the latter being holder of the singles championship; Doris Parkes and Bud Wagner, winners of last year's eight-mile mixed canoe marathon, and Les Traeger and Bob Parkin.

TO GROOM GIRL TRACK ATHLETES

Coach Archie McKinnon Will Put Local Girls Through Paces in Preparation for Island Championship at Nanaimo on Labor Day; First Workout To-morrow

With a view to grooming a girls' team for the Vancouver Island track and field championships at Nanaimo on Labor Day, September 3, Archie McKinnon, coach of the "Flying Y" squad, will take in girls at his track workouts every Tuesday and Thursday evening, starting to-morrow at 6:15 o'clock.

The scheme will have a double purpose. It will develop the strength of local girl performers in track and field, and it should extend young Yvonne Dingley, junior Canadian hurdle champion who has also equalled the junior Canadian girl's high jump record and is generally regarded as the best fair sex athlete developed at Nanaimo in that branch of sport.

Those intending to participate in the workouts are requested to register at the Y.M.C.A. as soon as possible in order that a squad may be whipped into shape and start training on a regular basis.

Possible members of the team include Doreen Beer, Virginia Hall, Olga Schwenken, Zoe Richards, Gladys Beasley, Virginia Graham, Sheila Swift and Charmaine Brown.

In addition to the weekday evening training periods, they will be allowed to turn out with the boys at 8 o'clock Saturday afternoon. All workouts will be held at the high school grounds.

They will be conditioning themselves for a good list of events in the Nanaimo programme, which has the following contest billed for girls: Sixty yards, girls eighteen years and under.

Seventy-five yards, girls fifteen years and under.
One hundred yards, women's open.
Sixty yards, women open.
High jump, women open.
Exhibition relay.

LYNDA ADAMS LIKES SHORTS

Young Vancouver Diver In London for the Empire Games Put Out When She Has to Wear Long Dress and Stockings to Meet Prince of Wales

London, Aug. 1.—Little Lynda Adams, Vancouver's thirteen-year-old high diver at the British Empire Games, was mightily relieved to-day to be able to wear the shorts and shirt she likes to wear in semi-public. The demands of royalty are almost beyond Lynda.

When the Canadian team moved on St. James Palace yesterday to meet the Prince of Wales, Lynda was ready to wear the usual garb. But state officialdom demanded that the little diver wear stockings and a long dress. They were "uncomfortable," declared Lynda.

As soon as the reception was over, the petite Miss Adams returned to her hotel and donned short skirts and no stockings at all. "I don't like feeling like a grown-up," she said. "I don't feel grown up at all."

Northfield Girls Softball Champs

Nanaimo, Aug. 1.—Northfield Wide-awakes captured the city girls' league softball championship yesterday evening by virtue of their 7 to 5 win over Harwood Athletics. The game was close and exciting and was witnessed by a crowd of 800. At the conclusion of the game A. R. C. Hadden presented the Heiden Trophy, emblematic of championship, to Verna Bohan, captain of the Northfield team.

Wheat Prices Make Year's High Level

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, Aug. 1.—The bull market took possession of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange to-day, as the best day's export business in more than a week was reported. Wheat futures soared up to the highest level this year and at the close values were 1½ to 1½ cents higher.

Australia and Europe, prices in the English market advanced to close 1½-1½d. higher.
Exporters reported everything offered had been accepted by importers and the aggregate sales of Canadian wheat for foreign shipment totaled 1,000,000 bushels. Good sales of oats and barley for export also were reported.
Cash grain demand was active.

IN DRYDOCK FOR ANNUAL OVERHAUL

For annual overhaul, the United States cableship Restorer went around to Esquimalt harbor this morning and was floated immediately into the Dominion Government drydock there.

Yarrow's Limited has the contract for cleaning and painting and minor repairs. The ship will return to her berth at the Esquimalt pier tomorrow evening.

The liner Empress of Russia is expected at the drydock Friday morning for annual summer overhaul. She will remain in the basin until Saturday evening before leaving for Vancouver to load for the Orient.

California Liners In Service Again

WEST COAST SHIP TO SAIL

Princess Norah Will Leave
Victoria This Evening
With Many Passengers

Bound on a holiday cruise along the west coast of Vancouver Island, the Princess Norah will sail from the Belleville Street dock at 11 o'clock this evening with another capacity list of passengers, including tourists from eastern portions of Canada and the United States and from California.

Dr. C. H. Toulser of Boston, well-known natural color photographer of that city, arrived this afternoon from Vancouver and will sail this evening with the Princess Norah on the West Coast trip. He intends to make pictures of the beauty spots along the coast and plans to spend some days in Victoria on his return.

Among the passengers booked at the local office for to-night's sailing are: Mrs. W. W. Wilson, Frank Somers, M. P. Barnes, H. Illingworth, Miss E. Brand, Miss R. Ball, E. Lewis, Mrs. E. H. Vickery, Major D. A. Hogg, Mrs. J. H. Knight for Kyquoot, Miss Lally for Hogg, Mrs. O. Hardy for Hogg, Miss Fox and Miss Nicholson for Tofino, Mrs. A. MacDonald for Ceepee, M. G. O'Leighy, A. M. Richmond and W. Woodward of Port Alberni for Ceepee, and Mr. and Mrs. Smith, Miss M. E. Dickson and Mr. and Mrs. Miss Hadley for the Princess Norah.

The Princess Norah will visit ports along the coast as far north as Port Alice and will return to Victoria next Wednesday afternoon.

SURVEY SHIP REACHES PORT

To take on supplies and give the members of the crew a few days at their homes, the Dominion Government hydrographic survey ship Albatross arrived at the harbor this morning from the West Coast of Vancouver Island.

She is bound up at the Marine Dock near the Johnson Street bridge, and will leave again in a few days for the West Coast to continue charting the channels and bays there.

The Albatross, a lighthouse tender operated on this part of the coast by the Dominion Government, is today at Union Bay taking on coal in preparation for a lengthy trip to the West Coast of the island.

She will return here tomorrow, and will sail early next week to repair all the buoys as far north as Esquimalt Inlet, and to land stores and supplies at various lighthouses along the coast.

WHERE GREAT BRIDGE WILL RISE

The broad bay of San Francisco, making one of the finest harbors in the world, will be bridged for the first time when this gigantic Bay Bridge, connecting San Francisco with Oakland, is completed in 1937. Progress to date is shown in this air photo from a plane over Yerba Buena Island in mid-bay. The piers on the island and those arising from the waters of the bay mark the future course of the bridge.

Leaking Vessel Has 500 Persons Aboard

Ss. Otsego, After Being Aground, Limping Towards Dutch Harbor,
Convoyed By Coastguard Cutters

Seattle, Aug. 1.—Under convoy of two coastguard cutters, the Alaska tanker Otsego, after being aground, is limping towards Dutch Harbor, in the Aleutian chain, to-day with water in her forward hold.

Captain Max Darske, who was in command of the Otsego, said that the ship was damaged by a collision with a rock in the Strait of Juan de Fuca, near the mouth of the Columbia River, on Sunday night.

The Otsego ran on the rocks of Cape Mudge, on the northwestern head of Unimak Island in the Aleutian chain, early yesterday morning.

Her 500 or more passengers, mostly cannery workers, will be returned south aboard the Alaska Steamship Company's liner Victoria, and her 125,000 cases of salmon transferred to another Alaska Line boat.

The Otsego left Bristol Bay Monday. She was built in Hamburg in 1908. The two cutters, the Ewing and Barnum, were out of Dutch Harbor.

Another government vessel, the coast and geodetic survey ship, Surveyor, also came to the aid of the Otsego.

Messages to the owners, Libby, McNeil and Libby, disclosed the belief of the captain, Max Darske, that he anticipated no danger on the way to Dutch Harbor.

From the vessel's position when it hit the rocks, as shown in messages to the owners, it was off the north shore of Unimak Island, and about 125 miles from Dutch Harbor.

It was able to back off under its own power, and proceed toward Dutch Harbor, before aid was received.

The weather was fair and the ship was not believed in serious danger, the owners were advised here.

The Ss. Victoria sailed from Seattle through the Alaskan Channel, to meet the Otsego at Dutch Harbor and take off the passengers.

The motorship Nikawa Maru of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha arrived early this morning from Japan, but had very little freight for this port, as most of her cargo was booked for Vancouver, because of the strike.
